

Truman Takes Campaign Into Taft Country

By ED CREAUGH
ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN (A) — President Truman took his campaign special stright into the heart of the Taft country today.

He was a little tired, a little hoarse after five weeks of stumping the nation for Adlai Stevenson. But he had plenty of ammunition stored up for Ohio—home state of his favorite political enemy, Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Many Seats Vacant
Police and fire officials agreed that there were about 2,000 vacant seats in the Michigan State Fair Coliseum, which seats 8,200, when Truman replied to GOP charges that Stevenson would only continue present administration policies.

If the President was on the defensive here, it was only for the moment.

His Detroit speech added up to a firm, even fervent expression of faith in what he regards as the three main accomplishments of his almost eight years in the White House—progress toward peace, general prosperity and civil rights for everybody.

Truman hit hardest on the peace issue, on the conflict between the Communist bloc and the Western world.

Revenue Chief Denies Supoena

SEATTLE (A) — Internal Revenue Commissioner John Dunlap denied here early today that he ever had been subpoenaed by a House judiciary subcommittee in Washington which is investigating tax irregularities.

Dunlap, here to attend installation of new tax officials today, said "I never have received a subpoena on any subject. It is a complete misstatement. We have given them 100 per cent co-operation and we will continue to do so. I won't make any other comment."

Dunlap was answering charges of Chairman King (D-Calif) and Rep. Kean of New Jersey, ranking Republican member of the subcommittee, that he had refused to appear at a subcommittee meeting when the subpoena deadline expired Wednesday afternoon.

The committee has ordered a probe of possible political pressure in the government's settlement of a five million dollar tax case against the late movie magnate William Fox for $295,000.

"Mr. Fox died in 1941 and I have been in office 15 months," Dunlap commented, "and we fired revenue agent Adrian H. Ash after we learned Fox's motion picture firm had flown Ash's wife to California."

Democrat Chairman Continues To Hammer At Nixon's Income

WASHINGTON (A) — Democratic National Committee Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell demanded again today that Sen. Richard Nixon make public his income tax returns.

Mitchell said it has been 38 days since Nixon, the Republican candidate for vice president, challenged Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Sen. John Sparkman to divulge their financial status. Mitchell said the Democratic running mates, as well as GOP presidential nominee Dwight Eisenhower, have done this, adding:

"Why doesn't Sen. Nixon give the public the information the other three candidates have provided? What is he trying to hide?"

Eisenhower Exposes Super-Smear Tactics Used By Democrats

By RELMAN MORIN
EN ROUTE WITH Eisenhower (A) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower headed for Chicago by plane today after three hard-driving days in New York where he said, in a climactic speech, the Democrats are trying to destroy him with a super-smear.

Rip-Roaring Rally
"They have made wild charges spread vile rumors, and played fast and loose with the truth," he said.

"They are determined to destroy me; to destroy my life-long friendships, my reputation, my spirit."

"This has been some campaign! It has been shocking."

Eisenhower hurled these charges last night at a rip-roaring GOP rally in Madison Square Garden.

The Democrats turned their fire on him, personally, Eisenhower said, when they failed to prevent the unification he claims has taken place in the Republican party. He

Arabs Protest Award To Jews

CAIRO, Egypt (A) — Premier Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib announced last night that Egypt has handed the West German government a note formally protesting a recent agreement to pay Israel reparations for Nazi persecutions of Jews.

Naguib handed the note to the new German ambassador, Guenther Pawelke, shortly after the seven-nation Arab League's Political Committee held an emergency meeting here to work out joint action against the payments to Israel. The Arabs contend the money should go to the 900,000 Arab refugees of the Palestine War.

Under the reparations agreement, the West Germans plan to deliver 775 million dollars worth of goods to Israel as restitution for Jewish suffering under the Hitler regime.

Great Political Debate Over Korea Mushrooms

Last Stevenson Tour Disrupted By Prison Riot

By JAMES DEVLIN
Aboard Stevenson Special (A) — The Democratic presidential campaign train rolled across the Eastern countryside today without a candidate.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the party nominee for the White House, dropped his politicking to fly back to Illinois to cope with a prison riot.

Senator Takes Over
But his train pushed on with Sen. William Fulbright (D-Ark) taking the role of stand-in at whistlestops through Maryland, West Virginia and Delaware.

Stevenson hoped to rejoin the campaign party in time to make four scheduled speaking appearances in New York City later in the day.

The suspension of his campaign tour came suddenly last night in Pittsburgh.

Crusade Called Masquerade

Only four campaign days remained before election as he had remained decided his home-state problem superseded his quest for votes.

He reached the decision immediately after addressing a wildly cheering audience of 13,000 at packed Hunt Armory in the Pennsylvania state center of Pittsburgh. Stevenson appeared his usual jaunty self as he charged the "great crusade" of his Republican opponent, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, had become "the great masquerade."

He pounded the theme, as he had in whistlestopping across Pennsylvania from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, that the general had abandoned the principles of Abraham Lincoln and succumbed to the Republican party "Old Guard."

Press Room Buzzes

Then the governor took what appeared to be a leisurely tour through the city, waving from an open convertible to supporters scattered along the streets as the clock neared midnight.

But once his motorcade reached the Pittsburgh Hotel, he rushed into a conference with members of his staff.

Soldiers In Korea Spared Listening To Campaign Talks

By OLEN CLEMENTS
TOKYO (A) — The U. S. presidential candidates are talking quite a bit about the Korean War and the frontline soldier—but the American fighting man seldom gets to hear or read much of it.

Many troops in the lines have never heard the voices of the nominees—Republican Dwight Eisenhower and Democrat Adlai Stevenson. And many have not read much of what they have said.

Despite thorough coverage of the campaign by the Armed Services Radio and its network of stations in Korea, Marines and infantrymen haven't had a chance to hear it. There are few radios at the front.

Too Young To Vote
Airmen in rear area fields and sailors are better posted. There is about one radio to every 20 men in rear areas.

Associated Press correspondents noticed only lukewarm interest in the election by most fighting men, some of whom are too young to vote.

However, the correspondents noted an increase in the number of election bets in the last two weeks.

Most of those who will vote have cast their absentee ballots and returned to their war chores. Many learned of the issues through letters and newspaper clippings sent from home.

The Army radio has urged all servicemen to vote.

District Convention Of Barbershoppers Opens In Escanaba

Registration started at 1 p. m. today for the Land O' Lakes district convention of barbershoppers which is being held in Escanaba this week end. The convention will culminate Saturday in a contest to choose the championship barbershop quartet of the district.

The contest Saturday will be in two parts, one at 2 p. m. with 13 quartets competing for places in the finals, and the championship event at 8 p. m. Both events will be at the Escanaba junior high school auditorium and will be open to the public. The afternoon show will have general admission, but all seats are being reserved for the evening performance. The night show will be opened by the Bay de Noc barbershop chorus under the direction of Sam Ham.

Two nationally known figures in the SPEBSQSA will fill the role of master of ceremonies for the two contests: O. H. King Cole of Manitowish, Wis., international board member; and Carroll Adams of Detroit, international secretary. The international president of the barbershoppers, Ed Smith of Wayne, Mich., will be present to take part in all events.

Delegates from four states and three Canadian provinces comprising the Land O' Lakes district will be here for the convention and quartet contest, many of them arriving today for the business session scheduled for tonight.

Here is the program for the week end gathering:

Registration, 1 p. m. today, Sherman Hotel headquarters.

Business session, 8 p. m. today, Sherman Hotel.

Saturday, 8 a. m., area counselors and officers breakfast, Sherman Hotel.

Barbershoppers wives breakfast, 8 a. m., Delta Hotel.

Contest elimination program, 2 p. m. Saturday, Oliver Memorial Auditorium.

Championship finals, 8 p. m., Oliver Memorial Auditorium.

Afterglow program, 10:30 p. m., Knights of Columbus hall.

Sunday, 9 a. m., quartet clinic, Sherman hotel.

Adjournment of convention, 12 noon.

Letter Creates Stir
The New York Daily News published a story today saying Van Fleet was being relieved for writing a letter quoted in a campaign speech by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican candidate for president.

Westbrook told the Herald Tribune from Dallas he had done nothing wrong. He blamed the contract cancellation on an international group which he said wanted to sell strategic materials to the United States at a higher price than his client, a Portuguese firm called Companhia Atlantica.

Party Official Fired
Larsen said one thing he wants cleared up is why he was not given an unsigned letter-contract which disclosed that the tungsten deal involved a 5 per cent fee to three men.

One of the three, Col. Lawrence Westbrook, was fired Wednesday night as a Democratic National Committee official. Democratic Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell ordered the dismissal after a New York Herald Tribune story called the case "the biggest 5 per cent deal ever exposed in Washington."

Larsen said he has found no evidence thus far of "wrongdoing or influence" in his agencies in connection with the contract for tungsten, a scarce metal used in steel production. He said he will publish all findings and, if there appears to be wrongdoing, will refer it to the Justice Department.

Comedy Team Drops Suit For 5 Million

HOLLYWOOD (A) — The five million dollar contract suit that comedians Bud Abbott and Lou Costello filed against Universal Pictures last November has been dropped.

"The suit was filed in New York on the basis of an incomplete audit," they said in a statement. "Subsequently, on completion of the audit, we found the facts contrary to all our contentions."

They have a non-exclusive contract with the studio that expires in 1955.

The comedians had complained in the suit that Universal cut feature-length pictures into shorter films for cheaper release.

Underground Blast Kills Five In Uranium Hunt Near Alpena

ALPENA, Mich. (A) — Five men prospecting for uranium were killed last night when an underground explosion ripped through the 180-foot deep shaft of an abandoned gold mine at Herron, 10 miles west of here.

State police identified the victims as John Wilczynski, of Chicago; Pat Chavali, 32, of Herron; and three brothers, Zeke, 47, Henry, 37, and Bernard Donke, 44, all of Herron.

Sixth Man Escapes
A sixth man, John Pastuszka, of Chicago, almost miraculously escaped injury in the blast which occurred at 11:15 p. m.

Police said the bodies of Chavali and Zeke Donke were still entombed at the bottom of the water filled shaft.

Searchers recovered the bodies of the other victims which had been hurled some 300 feet from the shaft entrance by the force of the blast.

Pastuszka said Chavali and Zeke Donke had gone down into the shaft to check on the removal of water pumps used to drain the abandoned mine. He said he and the others were grouped around the shaft entrance when the explosion occurred. Pastuszka said a tool shed between him and the shaft opening probably saved his life.

Investigation To Bare Fat $9,000,000 Deal To Deliver Tungsten

WASHINGTON (A) — A "top-to-bottom" investigation was underway today into a government deal to buy nine million dollars of tungsten, already the center of a political storm causing rough words on both sides of the Atlantic.

Defense Materials Administrator Jess Larson—who signed the contract and then canceled it as chief buyer of critical goods for the government—told a news conference yesterday he is heading the investigation.

Removal Of Top General Denied By White House

WASHINGTON (A) — The great campaign debate over sending South Koreans into the line to replace American soldiers in Korea mushroomed like an atomic explosion today, billowing out to Tokyo and Paris.

At its vortex, the heat of the word battle brought a White House denial that Gen. James A. Van Fleet is being relieved as Eighth Army commander and, from secret Pentagon files, a mass of data showing:

Opposed By Ridgway
1. Van Fleet's request that South Korean forces be doubled—from 10 to 20 divisions—was opposed as premature by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, then United Nations commander in Tokyo and now supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty forces in Paris.

2. Ridgway's position was upheld by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Secretary of Defense Lovett.

3. The Defense Department says it has been carrying out a long-range program to turn over the defense of Korea to the South Koreans as soon as leaders can be trained and seasoned in combat.

4. Gen. Mark Clark, Ridgway's successor in Tokyo, has pursued this program and has submitted a longer-range proposal for further expansion, now being studied at the Pentagon.

Inmates Capitate, End 4-Day Rebellion At Illinois Prison

CHESTER, Ill. (A) — Convicts ended their four-day rebellion at Menard State Prison today and released their seven hostages before Gov. Adlai Stevenson carried out plans for making a personal appeal to them.

The rebel convicts capitulated after an ultimatum was delivered by Michael Seyfrid, state director of public safety.

Seyfrid told the insurgents, who had been bottled up in the prison's east cell block since Monday, that unless they surrendered heavily-armed state troopers would cut through the cell house doors with torches and "use whatever force is necessary to restore order."

After releasing their hostages, the 339 convicts marched back to their cells.

Just before this, a loudspeaker had been set up in the prison yard and Gov. Stevenson was expected to issue an appeal or an ultimatum to the convicts.

The Democratic presidential nominee had broken off his campaign tour in the east to rush here by train and automobile.

Speeding Police Car Kills Halloweenist

BALTIMORE (A) — Young Roland Wisner, celebrating Halloween one night early, was struck and killed by a police car chasing a speeding motorist.

The motorist got away.

Florida Convict Kidnapers Taken

FERNANDINA BEACH, Fla. (A) — James Francis Hill and a prison mate were recaptured at nearby Yulee today and two of the eight persons they kidnaped during an all night race through Florida were freed.

Hill, 31, and his prison pal James Douglas, 30, were nabbed at a roadblock on US-17 about 20 miles north of Jacksonville.

With them as captives were an air force man from Tampa, Pfc. Robert H. Tarrh of MacDill Field, and a young woman, Miss Marilyn Cummings of Winfield, Ill. The desperados were driving the couple's car when halted.

Their fantastic escapade began yesterday when Hill forcing Johnny Trish of Buffalo, N. Y., to drive him to the prison camp near Bartow, Fla. There Hill held guards at bay with a pistol and set four men free. The four were Douglas, Hubert Gunn, Robert Key and Richard Schmidt. All have now been recaptured.

Girl Scouts Of Delta Observe Anniversary; Community Chest Aids

Today is the birthday of Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouting, and Girl Scouts of Delta county are observing the occasion with a celebration at the Nahma clubhouse tomorrow.

These facts take on added significance, the Community Chest Council points out, because the birthday of Miss Low is being observed in the midst of the Delta County Community Chest fund campaign.

Of the Delta County Chest goal of $20,000, the sum of $2,900 will go toward the work of the Girl Scouts in 1953. All of this money is used to finance Girl Scouting within Delta county.

Organized In 1912
Girl Scouting was first organized in March, 1912, but this week is being observed as Girl Scout Week because Miss Low's birthday falls on October 31. The slogan is: "Girl Scouts—A Growing Force To Freedom."

Miss Nell Fleming of Nahma is chairman of arrangements for the celebration at Nahma, and Mrs. Bernard DeHooghe, Gladstone, will be the principal speaker. Approximately 150 Girl Scouts are expected to attend the Nahma celebration.

Summer camps, weekend camping trips, winter activities and varied instruction in good living and citizenship training are made possible by Community Chest money used by the Girl Scouts.

At present, there are approximately 425 Girl Scouts registered in Delta county. Escanaba has 17 troops, Gladstone 12, Nahma and Bark River, two each, and Garden and Bay View, one each.

Many Activities
"Girl Scouting is open to all girls from seven to 18 who progress successfully through the Brownie Scout, Intermediate and Senior Scout programs," it was pointed out.

"Girl Scouts belong to an organization whose purpose is to help them become happy, happy individuals and active citizens. In addition, they belong to the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, which has member organizations in nearly all countries."

Delta county members have a widespread program. They have access to three types of camping, the day camp at Bunker Hill in Gladstone, individual troop camping and Timber Trail camp in the Hiawatha National Forest near Munising.

Welfare, Relief Work
In addition to camping and many winter activities geared to training the individual to become a happy, useful citizen, Girl Scouts of this area perform considerable welfare and relief work. Individual troops embark on projects throughout the year to help the needy.

The following women are leaders of the troops in Escanaba: Mrs. Ray Knudson, Mrs. Percy Rosemurgy, Mrs. Fred Sensiba, Mrs. James LaVasser, Mrs. Charles L. Jones, Mrs. John Fawcett, Mrs. John Loeffler, Mrs. George Peterson, Mrs. Roy Hebert, Mrs. Ed Harkins, Jr., Mrs. E. R. Bornman, Mrs. Cyril E. Lie Detector Test Fails To Implicate Pair In Assault

GLADSTONE—Lie detector tests given yesterday to two Escanaba men suspected of possible connection with the assault on a young Gladstone girl Oct. 15 failed to establish their implication in the affair, the Gladstone State Police office reported today.

The men were subsequently released. They had been first apprehended last week on a lead received by the troopers. After the girl failed to identify them they were removed from custody. Yesterday they were picked up again for the lie detector test.

The test only showed that the pair practiced little or no deception in the interrogation, officials reported. Lt. Wibor Peterman, polygraph technician of the Michigan State Police, administered the test.

The investigation in the case is continuing, State Police reported. The attacked girl, 18 year old Cora VanDamme, was returning to her home when the assault occurred the night of Oct. 15. Her screams drove her attacker off only after he had tried to stifle her outcries and struck her a number of times.

Provo May Get 20-Year Term

A possible prison sentence of 20 years faces Donald Provo, 21 year old defendant convicted yesterday by a Circuit Court jury, on the two charges of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder and assault with intent to commit the crime of rape.

Each of the counts carry a ten-year maximum imprisonment sentence under Michigan law.

The jury of seven women and five men deliberated approximately three and one-half hours yesterday to return a verdict of guilty of assault with intent to commit the crime of rape, one of five possible verdicts they could have delivered.

Threatens Girl's Father

Provo, who lives at 1325 N. 22nd St., was tried on a charge of rape as a result of a complaint brought against him by a 17 year old Escanaba girl. He earlier pleaded guilty to another Circuit Court charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder. The assault was also perpetrated the same morning, Oct. 9, against the complaining witness.

Eight state witnesses took the stand in the one-day trial in support of the People's charge against the youth. He was the only witness to testify in his behalf.

Calm through the trial of the case but defiant after the reading of the verdict, the convicted man uttered a threat against the father of the girl as he was being taken from the courtroom, warning the girl's father that he had "better be out of Delta county when I get out."

Sentencing of Provo is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 7. He is awaiting sentencing in the county jail.

Coyne Trial Monday

It is expected that he will be called to testify in the trial of William Thennis, 19 year old Escanaba youth, who is similarly charged with rape and assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder.

Thennis was in the car with Provo and the girl the morning the offenses occurred.

Action on the charges against him, to which he has entered two pleas of not guilty, was deferred yesterday to Monday Oct. 3.

The next jury trial scheduled by Presiding Judge Glenn W. Jackson is that of John C. Coyne Jr. on the charge of failure to stop at the

Two Injured In Crash On US-2

Two highway accident victims, Katherine Duchaine, 20, of 1014 Tenth Ave. S., and Francis D. Perran, 27, Escanaba, Rte. 1, are being treated in St. Francis Hospital for injuries suffered last night when their car was struck by another on US-41 in Bark River.

The girl received a fractured right ankle and lacerations of the face and Perran sustained lacerations of the right hand and bruises on the head in the mishap which occurred at approximately 8:45 p. m. Thursday, State Police reported today.

Perran was driving east through the village of Bark River when a car driven by Joseph J. Lavigne of Schaffer pulled out into the path of his car from behind a parked truck. Point of impact was the right front fenders of the cars.

Lavigne was ticketed by State

Induction Group Leaving Nov. 5

Sixteen Delta County men are leaving Nov. 5 for Milwaukee for induction examination, the Delta Selective Service board reported today.

Also leaving Nov. 5 will be a pre-induction group of 15 men and four Delta County doctors.

Both induction and pre-induction groups will report at the Escanaba draft board office at 2 p.m. Wednesday and will be taken to Milwaukee by chartered bus.

Stade Is Leader

The December induction call is for 15 men from Delta County. The men inducted in November will report for examination between Dec. 1 and Dec. 15.

The induction group leaving next Wednesday consists of Frank Julius Papineau of Gladstone, Route One, Robert N. Flath of Bark River, Route One, Gordon C. Herbst of Escanaba, Route One, Joseph J. Schleis, John A. Prokos, Willard K. Kempainen, William Joseph Cretens, John W. Stoneman and Henry A. Kasbohm of Escanaba, Wilbur A. Oman of Rapid River, Route One, Clayton E. Kanerva and Bernard D. LaClaire of Rock, Robert J. Lewis of Ensign, Charles Leo Gendron and Richard Louis Stadel of Gladstone and Thomas Keith Way of Wells.

Richard L. Stadel of Gladstone was named leader for the induction group.

Transfer to Tennessee

Doctors G. W. Benson, D. H. Boyce, and N. L. Lindquist of Escanaba and D. A. Bernier of Nahma will go to Milwaukee for pre-induction examinations.

The pre-induction group is comprised of Archie A. Terrian, Thomas G. Riedy, John P. Frost, Richard A. DeGrand, Joseph A. Reese, and Patrick E. Chevalier of Escanaba, Frederick B. McGuigan, and Robert Lee Cole of Gladstone, Route One, Carl William Miron of Rapid River, Route One (order mailed to Milwaukee), Neal W. Hallinen of Route One, Rock, Lawrence Edward LaPlant of Gladstone, John J. Pepin of Escanaba, Route One, Lawrence J. Stairs of Rapid River, Route One, and Charles H. McArthur who has been transferred to Board 102 in Lebanon, Tenn.

Joseph A. Reese of Escanaba has been named leader and Robert L. Cole of Gladstone, Route One, assistant leader, for the pre-induction group.

Stephenson Opens Adult Education Classes Next Week

The adult education program will begin next week with the organization of the following classes:

Knitting — Monday, Nov. 3, 7 p.m., in the home economics room of the high school. This course is open to both beginners and advanced knitters. The instructor is Gwen Ralston.

Woodworking — Wednesday, Nov. 5 at 7 at the school shop. Emphasis is on individual projects with individual instruction. The instructor will be Fred Pinal.

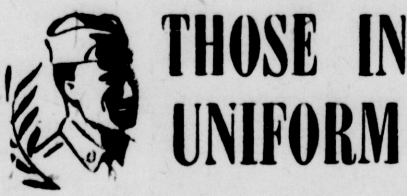

Metal work — Wednesday, Nov. 5 at 7 p.m., at the school shop. Emphasis on individual projects with a chance to do cutting, welding, lathe work and all kinds of metal work. The instructor will be Burton Pontyven.

THOSE IN UNIFORM

Two Escanaba men, Pvt. Raymond Oseen and Pvt. O'Neil King, have recently completed basic combat training at the Signal Corps Replacement Training Center, Camp Gordon, Ga.

Oseen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Oseen of 509 N. 19th St. King is married to the former Barbara Chernick of Harris, who is now living with his mother, Mrs. Edward King, in Farmington, Mich.

In their basic combat training, the men received instruction in infantry tactics and weapons and other Army subjects designed to prepare the soldier for his military duties in the Army and in the Signal Corps.

The pair entered service in the August induction quota for Delta County. Oseen was formerly employed by the Chicago North Western Railway and King was employed at the Harnischfeger Corporation plant.

Hospital

Mrs. Albert Deiter Jr., Escanaba Rte. 1, is a surgical patient at St. Francis Hospital.

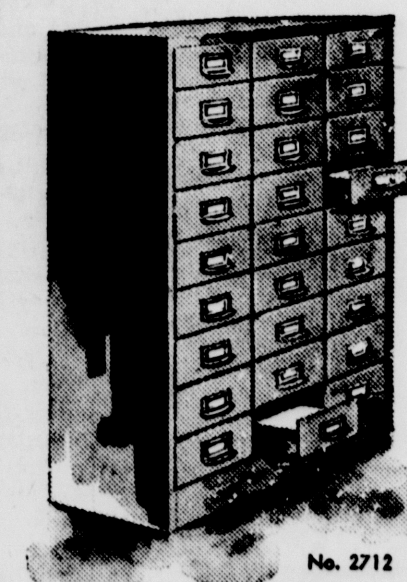

Mrs. Nels H. Larson and infant son, William John, were dismissed from St. Francis hospital yesterday and are at their home, 504 S. 7th St.

Rose Marie Papineau, 6, daughter of Julius Papineau, 1619 North 20th street, is receiving medical treatment in St. Francis Hospital. She submitted to a tonsillectomy earlier this month. Her condition is reported fair.

Scouts Call At Homes In 'Get Out Vote' Campaign

Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts will climax their "Get Out the Vote" campaign on Saturday when members of Scout units in Red Buck District will call on homes in Delta, Schoolcraft and North Menominee counties to leave on front doorknobs a liberty bell cut-out urging all citizens to vote.

The campaign is a nationwide "good turn" of the Boy Scouts of America and is non-partisan, without reference to any candidate or party. It is jointly sponsored with the Freedoms Foundation.

Community Chairmen

The message on the liberty bell cutout reads: "Vote as you think. Think when you vote, Tuesday, Nov. 4. Today's youth counts on you. Use your freedom to vote."

Community chairmen for the campaign in the Red Buck District are as follows:

Glen Leonard, Escanaba; Leroy Hamilton, Gladstone; James Gribble, Hermansville; Lester Ernka, Powers; Ray Raymond, Bark River; Wilfred Casey, Wells; Harold Jocola, Rapid River; Dave Phalen, Nahma; Victor Borga, Garden; and Charles Nelson, Cooks.

To Receive Medal

The first phase of the Scouts' "Get Out the Vote" campaign began just before registration when Scouts placed attractive posters on public display, urging citizens to register to become eligible to vote in the national election.

Following Nov. 4 at Boy Scout Courts of Honor and other public Scouting functions each boy who took part in the campaign is to receive a suitably inscribed "Good Citizenship" pocket reminder, the size of a half dollar, as a reminder of his personal participation in the nationwide citizenship project.

Andy Houston, district Scout Executive, said today that while the campaign hopes to stimulate adults to meet their responsibilities of good citizenship by voting, the Scouts themselves will also receive a lesson in their duty to vote when they come of age.

Ask Bids On Road Widening

The state highway department began this week to advertise for bids on the road widening project at the intersection of Ludington and 23rd Streets in the city.

Submitted bids on the work will be opened Nov. 13 at 11 a.m. (E. S. T.) and the contract will subsequently be awarded to the low bidder. Also being advertised are two road improvements projects in Marquette and Houghton counties.

The highway widening project at the intersection here calls for laying of concrete pavement on 0.323 miles from the intersection of US-2 and M-35 westerly, 0.184 northerly, and 0.289 miles southerly. The Escanaba City Council has authorized the city's participation in financing part of the cost of the widening.

The other jobs advertised: In Marquette county—0.512 miles of grading and drainage structures, concrete pavement widening and bituminous concrete together with curbs and gutters on US-41 from Fisher Street to Mampton Street in the city of Marquette.

In Houghton county—reconstruction of two culverts carrying M-203 over Boston Creek and St. John's Creek, 7.6 and 7.8 miles respectively, northwest of the city of Hancock.

To The Voters Of Delta County

In all probability, this will be my last campaign ad. You know me, you know the character of my services in the Probate Court. To most of you, my opponent is a stranger.

My record is an open book. You do not have to guess as to my ability to render an efficient and competent administration of many duties and functions of the Probate Court. That is a demonstrated fact.

Therefore, I have no hesitancy to solicit your votes Nov. 4. I am asking you to vote for me regardless of your party affiliation. Candidates for judicial offices are supposed to be non-partisan. A party label does not make any person a competent judge. The competency that is demanded of every judge, be it a supreme court justice, a circuit or probate judge, depends upon character, temperament, a knowledge of the law and a knowledge of court procedures, and also he must have a keen understanding of human nature.

I have good reason to believe most or all of the people of Delta County who have been interested in probate court matters know they were well served. Of course, there are times when the court must make decisions that do not satisfy the litigants, or some of them. Judges cannot vary the law or the terms and provisions of wills to satisfy the demands of contending parties. I am sure that all persons having had matters in this court know the cost of such proceedings were relatively small.

I solicit votes, not campaign funds. I have no campaign committee, no committee treasurer to make appeals for money to my campaign expenses. I pay my own expenses. I take my own risk, and if I win, as I confidently expect, I am not under obligation to any person, committee man or contributor, and I have no patronage at my disposal.

On the non-partisan ballot will be printed under my name the designation of my office, as follows:

☐ William J. Miller
Judge Of Probate

I have the support of nearly all of the attorneys of Delta County, which fact should indicate to the impartial voter that I performed my judicial duties satisfactorily.

I am willing to let the people of Delta County be the judges and jury of the relative merits of the candidacy of myself and my opponent.

I do not fear the verdict.

I respectfully ask you to listen to my announcement over WDBC, Friday, Oct. 31, at 6:45 p.m., at which time I will discuss non-partisan elections and tenure of judges.

I also wish to thank the voters of Delta County for their expressed confidence in me, personally and as public official.

Yours sincerely,

William J. Miller

Cooperative Effort Speeds Vote Returns To People Of America

THE newspapers of America have, from earliest days of the republic, been the medium by which the citizens learn the unofficial result of elections.

On the basis of those unofficial returns the losing candidates concede defeat, the winners are acclaimed victorious.

This is done hours and sometimes a day or more before the official returns are known. And in national elections, wherein the electoral college must meet to cast the formality of their ballots before the result becomes official, the people know the name of the new president days before the official election formalities are completed.

By the morning of Nov. 5 the people of the United States should know, on the basis of unofficial tabulations, who will be the next occupant of the White House.

To assemble this unofficial vote tally requires the willing cooperation of thousands of people in newspaper offices, correspondents in the smallest village and the largest city, and the help of the clerks and inspectors who conduct the election in the precincts.

It means long hours of work through the night after the polls close. One by one the vote in the smaller precincts is reported first, then comes the rush of votes rapidly tallied in the cities where voting machines speed the work, and last of all there are the reports from the stragglers—usually not received until late at night or early the morning after the election.

The Escanaba Daily Press, following a long tradition of service to the public, will gather the unofficial returns from Delta and neighboring counties on election night. These figures will be supplied to the Associated Press, which in turn will give the Daily Press latest teletype reports on the course of the ballot count in the state and nation.

This newspaper acknowledges the assistance given by election clerks and inspectors in helping us compile the returns from Delta county. Without their help the task would be most difficult.

When you read your newspaper to determine who won and who lost and the vote the candidates received, precinct by precinct, remember that story it is the result of cooperation and initiative—always a winning team on anybody's ballot.

Let's Halt Marathon Campaigns In Future

WHEN the national conventions loomed ahead there were shining forecasts that because of TV they'd be shorter and snappier this year. Well, they weren't. They were both longer than any in the last 20-odd years.

After they ended, the optimists came out of their cliché-proof shelters and bravely predicted that the campaigns, at least, would be streamlined to fit the modern-day needs of television.

Wrong again. Instead of starting in mid-September, as candidates had been doing in the recent past, the two 1952 nominees stirred from their vacation roosts in August, and by Sept. 1 were going full-tilt up and down the land.

Pick up your paper or tune in radio or TV today and it ought to be obvious that eight or nine weeks is much too long for a presidential campaign in this era.

Britain has a pretty fair working democracy, and the British handle the whole thing in three weeks. We've got more country to cover, but we ought to be able to do it in six weeks rather than nine.

THE STRAITS BRIDGE (See Evening News)

The news that a prominent investment banking firm has agreed to underwrite a revenue bond issue for the Straits of Mackinac bridge is most welcome. The best bridge engineers in the world pronounced this bridge feasible from an engineering standpoint and a top traffic engineering firm declared it was feasible financially.

Thus draws toward a close a campaign which has lasted at least 20 years. There have been arguments for a tunnel, there have been skeptics who stated engineers could not overcome the difficulties, there have been pessimists who have freely stated that none of this generation would ever drive across the straits on a bridge.

Those who have worked hard for the realization of what seemed like a dream 20 years ago are particularly happy at the progress the present Mackinac Bridge Authority has made. The brilliant leadership of Prentiss M. Brown, the thorough cooperation of the legislators and several governors including Governor Williams have made possible the present desirable situation. Politics has been kept to a minimum, it is a bi-partisan accomplishment. All Michigan will benefit, particularly the Northern Peninsula.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — During the latter years of his life, Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, Republican, was troubled with severe headaches from the brain tumor which eventually brought his death.

Dropping in to see him late one afternoon, it was obvious Vandenberg was not feeling well and I remarked on it. He replied:

"These headaches aren't half as bad as those given me by some of my Republican colleagues in the Senate."

Vandenberg was then in the middle of his fight to put across appropriations for the Marshall Plan, and went on to explain that almost every night Republican isolationist senators were meeting privately to hatch their strategy against him. These senators he named as Jenner of Indiana, Ken of Missouri, Watkins of Utah, McCarthy of Wisconsin, Ecton of Montana, Cain of Washington, and Bricker of Ohio.

Vandenberg, who was cooperating with the Democrats on foreign policy in the same way I described earlier Republican Secretaries of State Frank B. Kellogg and Henry L. Stimson as cooperating with Democratic Senators, finally won the Marshall Plan battle.

And in recognition of that service, Vandenberg's close friend, Paul Hoffman, a Republican and then head of Studebaker, was made top Marshall Plan administrator. It was a wise choice.

No factor played a greater part in stopping the march of Communism in Western Europe than the Marshall Plan. And I can say this as one who has been to Europe many times before and since the Marshall Plan, who helped end the paralyzing shipping strike at Le Havre with a load of Friendship Train food in the dark winter of 1947, who toured through railroad stations pock-marked with bullets from Communist rioting, and paraded through streets carrying American food before crowds which only a short time before had cheered the Communists.

For this stopping of Communism, Vandenberg, Hoffman, and the authors of the Marshall Plan deserve great credit.

EISENHOWER'S RISK

Paul Hoffman left the Marshall Plan to join the Ford Foundation and to head up the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee. Believing that Eisenhower presented the best chance of retaining an even-keeled, non-partisan foreign policy, Hoffman was instrumental in getting the General nominated.

Since then, and since Eisenhower has embraced those same senators who caused Vandenberg headaches, Hoffman has been strangely silent.

So also has Gen. Omar Bradley, who stormed the Normandy beachheads and, along with General Patton, bore the brunt of the advance through France and Germany. Once strong for Ike, Bradley has changed his mind.

Eisenhower, of course, is taking a calculated risk. He is risking a savage partisan attack on foreign policy, both in Korea and Europe, on the theory that after he wins he can crack the whip over the isolationist senators of his own party and keep them in line.

This will probably work for the first two years. But after the patronage runs out, after the jobs are filled, then the maverick isolationists of the GOP will be just as difficult for Eisenhower as they were for Vandenberg.

By and large history has shown, as Frank B. Kellogg and Henry L. Stimson so well knew, that Republican presidents get better cooperation from Democratic senators than they get from their own party.

EISENHOWER AND SOUTH

When General Eisenhower first decided to invade the South, GOP Chairman Sumnerwell cautioned: "the only time to go South is in the winter."

A secret Republican poll now indicates that Sumnerwell was right. It states: "It is now doubtful whether General Eisenhower will be able to carry more than two states in the South . . . best information available shows that Eisenhower's popularity reached its highest during the period Oct. 1-15."

The two Southern states are Florida and Virginia. In Florida, the GOP poll as of Oct. 22 showed Ike 50 per cent; Stevenson 45 per cent; 5 per cent undecided.

The Virginia GOP poll showed Ike 48 per cent, Stevenson 46 per cent, 6 per cent undecided.

Pilot (65) With Old Plane (42) Ready To Try His Hand At Jets

HOWARD HARTMAN AND HIS FLYING MACHINE: At Olathe, Kans., where he's shown talking with an unidentified reporter, his "pile of wire and engine" awed the pilots of modern jets.

By MARY C. FLYNN

BURLINGTON, Ia.—(NEA)—A wiry, 65-year-old aerial showman, who first took to the air 49 years ago by parachuting from hot-air balloons at fairs and expositions, hopes to celebrate his 50th anniversary as an aviator by making his solo jet flight.

Howard Hartman wants to pilot a jet plane in the final scenes of the movie, "The History of Aviation," which he is making. He currently is learning to fly a helicopter for the film, which will feature him piloting old and latest aircraft.

Contrasts in aviation were highlighted when Hartman and the Navy's famed "Blue Angels," a team of combat veterans who do precision formation aerobatics in jet fighters, appeared recently on an air show seen by 50,000 persons at the Olathe, Kans., Naval Air Base.

In the show, Hartman piloted the "flying machine" he built 42 years ago in sections in upstairs rooms of his home. The tail section of the plane was shrouded in bluish-colored smoke near the end of his exhibition.

"In the early days, that 'pile of wire and engine' spouted so much smoke and oil that I had to wear a raincoat and head covering with eyeholes," the genial pioneer explained. "Why, that stuff got so bad in 1936 that my wife threatened to quit washing my underclothes."

Hartman, who says he can fly "anything up to a DC-3," instructed 1500 young men in flying during World War II under the CAP training program at Burlington. He is aided by modern jet propelled aircraft. In turn, during his meeting with the "Blue Angels," the jet pilots had sincere admiration for the inspiring little man in the black and white checked cap and his ancient airplane.

Hartman's aerial displays date back to 1897 when he thrilled neighborhood kids by jumping off a barn roof with an umbrella. He switched his first professional stunts from the balloon when its popularity faded in favor of the airship or dirigible.

He was making wing covers for the Wrights' flying machines when the famous brothers advised him to get into flying—the coming thing—if he wanted to stay in show business.

Hartman heeded the suggestion in 1910 and built the 21st flying machine in the U. S. A picture of a plane which flew the English Channel in 1909 was the principal guide for his design.

Mechanically, the craft was okay, he said, but he had a lot of difficulty trying to learn to fly it. "I would crack up over and over," he recalled. "A demonstration flight paid as much as $500 but 90 per cent of the time I had to rebuild the flying machine after a show."

Hartman opened the first municipal airport in Burlington in 1927 and managed it until 1945. A son, Arthur C. Hartman, an airline station manager at Wichita, was taught to fly by his father when he was 15.

From jets, Hartman soon will be going back to balloons. He and his wife have made one from which he plans to make a jump for the historical movie.

'Atomic Clock' Used To Date World's Lost Ages

WASHINGTON—Out of lost ages, the faint clicking of a 20,000-year clock gives modern science a new way to time the past.

Wherever explorers find dead fires of forgotten peoples, fossil bones of extinct animals, or mute evidence of some natural cataclysm older than written history, the question "When?" is often harder to answer than "Who?" or "What?" the National Geographic Society observes.

Radiocarbon dating, a technique for measuring age by natural radioactivity, is revolutionizing archeology. In five short years since the process was worked out, it has confirmed or rewritten much of the previously-known calendar of human and geologic happenings over the last 20,000 centuries.

Cosmic Carbon

Timing the past by the atom depends upon a relatively tiny amount of radioactive carbon— which scientists estimate at some 80 tons in all—scattered through earth, air, sea, and all living things in the world.

Constantly produced in the upper atmosphere by the bombardment of cosmic rays from outer space, this "hot" carbon becomes part of the carbon dioxide in the air. It is absorbed by plants through their leaves. Animals, including man, acquire the tagged atoms by eating plants. The process is endless.

As long as the plant or animal is alive, a balance is maintained.

New radiocarbon is added as fast as it disappears, which is not very fast. When life ends, however, no more is added, and death's time-clock begins to run down.

Ice Age and Man

Most organic material, of course, will itself have crumbled to dust long before this time. But occasionally Nature preserves remnants of ancient trees, charred bones, and human artifacts made from animal or plant substance. From these, radiocarbon dating can read the past.

There have been many surprises. For example, the last ice caps to push down over North America and northern Europe, long estimated at 20,000 to 25,000 years ago, were shown instead to have occurred about 11,000 years back.

Woven rope sandals found buried in volcanic ash in an Oregon cave gave proof that human beings roamed this continent as long as 9,000 years ago, much earlier than previously estimated. Radiocarbon has shown there were Indians in New York State and fishermen in Boston 5,000 years ago.

From buried ruins in northeastern Iraq, known today as Jarmo, shell fragments of land snails were found to be about 6,700 years old. Archeologists thus identified the site as the most ancient human village settlement yet discovered in the world.

CAMPAIGN COVERAGE—The majority of newspapers in the United States must be Republican in editorial outlook or the charges of partisanship hurled at them would not be heard.

The accusations of unfair treatment have been voiced from President Truman down to the wife of Michigan's governor, which may appear an impolite construction. So we will reverse the order and say from Mrs. Williams down to President Truman.

At any rate, the old question of whether the newspapers gave their readers balanced coverage of the presidential campaign is with us again. And this year, as before, they are charged with favoring the Republicans in their news columns.

Just how true is this allegation? What facts are there to support it? Suppose we examine the matter more closely.

THE AUTHORS SPEAK—Recently a group of 96 U. S. authors accused the American press of offering a distorted picture of the Eisenhower-Stevenson battle to their readers. They based the charge on a study of 26 papers in six states.

It should be noted that the authors did not say the papers simply preferred Eisenhower editorially. They declared that various journalistic tricks were used to present Ike in a favorable light—to play him up—while Stevenson did not get a fair break on the news pages.

This might be taken seriously if the charge did not come from pro-Stevenson boosters who, for the sake of political effect, made their statement during the campaign.

That they issued their statement to the newspapers—including those they accused of bias—and that the newspapers published the story indicates the falsity of their claim.

STUDY AND REPORT—Fortunately it is unnecessary to rely upon mere guesswork to challenge the authors.

For the Associated Press has made its own study of 115 U. S. newspapers and concludes that the Democrats, not the Republicans, enjoy a pronounced advantage in volume and display of news coverage in this campaign.

The AP's box score showed that 47 per cent of the papers surveyed gave the Democrats dominant coverage, 32 per cent gave Ike and Stevenson an equal break, and just 21 per cent actually favored Eisenhower in news treatment.

A majority of these papers prefer Ike for president, yet the evidence indicates they are leaning over backwards to provide fair coverage of the news.

WHAT MAKES NEWS—President Truman's entry into the 1952 campaign undoubtedly has had some effect on the Democratic balance in news coverage.

He is president and what he has to say is newsworthy above that of almost any of the political aides on either side of the fence. Accusations that editor's are "playing up" the President's attacks on Eisenhower to discredit the Democratic cause can be answered by asking a question:

"What would be said if the President's speeches were played down or not reported fully?"

The answer is obvious: The newspapers would be accused of favoring the Republicans. From this viewpoint only a newspaper favoring a party newswise and editorially would be held "fair" in its treatment of the campaign.

AND EDITORIALS—No one will deny that the majority of the newspapers are Republican in editorial outlook. But there is a vast difference between editorial opinion and the presentation of news. The first is reserved for the editorial page, the second will be found in factual and unsalted news coverage.

Every conscientious publisher will defend his right to his opinion—and your right to your opinion. An American press muzzled and harnessed and coerced into accepting the opinion of the majority—no matter what that majority may be—is a press that has lost its freedom.

Under today's conditions the newspapers have an enormous responsibility to inform their readers as fully and completely as the paper's facilities will allow.

And it preserves the right, a fundamental and constitutional right, to have opinions and to voice them.

The 96 authors have made a poor case for themselves in attacking the newspapers who gave of their space so their charges could receive national attention. No doubt what they really seek is a press slanted to favor the man of their choice.

Waterbury, Conn.—"What are the correct abbreviations for noon and midnight?"—H. S. F.

Answer:—Our time is reckoned from the passage of the sun over the highest point in its course, the point called the meridian. The time of that passage is noon, of 12 o'clock. And because initial M is ordinarily used for "meridian," twelve noon or twelve midday is usually written 12 M. Midnight, coming twelve hours later, is usually written 12 P. M. (twelve past meridian, twelve after the meridian).

Ethics Code Is Designed to Improve Relations With Patients and Doctors

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Few things are so generally misunderstood as medical ethics. Most people who think about this at all have some vague idea that medical ethics is a set of rules established by the medical profession to protect the doctors and confuse the public.

Actually, medical ethics is a code of behavior which physicians have developed themselves to improve their dealings with their patients and with other doctors. The origin of this code lies in the famous Oath of Hippocrates which I wish I could quote in full.

However, contrary to what many people believe, the code of ethics has been modified repeatedly because of changing conditions of society.

The opening section of the present code of ethics states: "A profession has for its prime object the service it can render to humanity; reward or financial gain should be a subordinate consideration. The practice of medicine is a profession. In choosing this profession an individual assumes an obligation to conduct himself in accord with its ideals."

A few points about "ethics" are particularly bothersome to patients. One of these arises when a patient or a patient's family wishes to change physicians.

Such a change is at all times the privilege of the patient; the only thing that the patient or the family need to do in order to make a change during the course of an illness is to notify the physician in charge that another physician is to be called in in his place.

It should be obvious that if this is not done a great deal of confusion and bad feeling is likely to arise.

A second thing which seems to bother many people is the question of consultation. The code of ethics states that: "In serious illness, especially in doubtful or difficult conditions, the physician should request consultations." This is clear enough, and the patient, too, can ask the attending physician for a consultation by another physician.

A final point which comes up occasionally, is whether there is any way by which a patient who feels he has not been properly treated, has been overcharged, or is otherwise dissatisfied, can ask for review of the conduct of the physician.

COMPLAINTS ARE REVIEWED In a large number of places this is now possible since a goodly number of county and state medical societies have set up committees to hear complaints of this sort. Such committees have accomplished a great deal of good, and I am glad to say that most of them have not had too much to do.

Since physicians, like patients, are human beings, and since the human body is a complicated organism, there will always be some unfortunate experiences with medical care and more misunderstandings. However, it seems beyond question that the principles of medical ethics have been enormously helpful to the public welfare and that this code has greatly improved the relationship between the medical profession and the public.

Bronx Cowboy Owns 'Ranch', 43 Horses

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry (Hopalong) Abramowitz is probably the last cowboy in the Bronx section of New York.

His "ranch" is scattered all over the borough. In a three-story stable he keeps 43 horses, 12 goats and a dog. On five lots he has a rare assortment of wagons of all sorts—covered wagons, buckboards, surreys, tallyhos, victorias and barouches.

The 64-year-old "cowboy" rents his equipment to advertise bond rallies, movies, parades, political candidates and commercial products. He began his collection in 1910 when he bought 64 carriages from a member of the Vanderbilt family for a total price of $50.

Assets Of GM Go Up To 4 Billion

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp. now is a four-billion-dollar outfit.

A third quarter financial statement issued by the big auto firm listed total assets of $4,029,460,640. This compared with $3,671,582,575 in assets of Dec. 31, 1951.

The report issued by president C. E. Wilson and chairman Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., listed net income for the nine months ended Sept. 30 at $387,303,986, equal to $4.32 a common share. This compared with $372,790,913, or $4.14 a share, in the like period last year.

Third quarter earnings were set at $117,982,901, equal to $1.31 a share, against $92,207,779, or $1.01 a share in the like 1951 quarter.

Sales for the quarter were $1,695,355,873, and for the nine months $5,563,916,294. Both figures were below 1951, reflecting the effects of the 54-day steel strike which ended July 26.

Moody Expenses Total $29,503

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Senator Blair Moody of Michigan has reported receiving $32,620 in contributions thus far toward his election campaign and spending $29,503.29.

His Republican opponent, Rep. Charles Potter, reported contributions of $7,242 and "personal traveling or subsistence expenses" of $4,775.78.

Moody had $17,026.47 personal expenses, and also itemized $12,476.82 of other expenditures including $6,000 turned over to the Democratic State Committee.

Potter presented no itemized list of expenditures.

The preliminary reports were filed with the secretary of the Senate as required by law. Final reports will not be available until after Tuesday's election.

Moody listed 381 contributions to his campaign. The biggest were $5,000 from the Wayne County League for Political Education and $1,800 from J. D. Shane.

He listed $1,000 contributions each from the Michigan CIO Political Action Association, I. L. G. W. U. 1952 campaign committee, L. A. Harvey, W. A. Harriman, Roger L. Stevens and Lehman Brothers.

Potter listed 24 contributors including $5,000 from the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, $1,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson Brown of Port Deposit, Md., and $200 each from G. G. Buty, Washington, D. C.; W. Harnischfeger, Milwaukee, and Walter F. Gries, Ishpeming, Mich.

struggle. The balances are moving in our favor. We will see that all our sacrifices, all our effort, have been worth while. We will have gained our effort of stopping aggression without another world war."

This, said the President, has been done with little help from the Republican "Old Guard."

He tied into Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower then—said the GOP presidential nominee has been talking so loosely about Korea that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky "has been able to use his statements while attacking this country in the United Nations."

Truman also accused the Republicans of ganging up with Southern Democrats to kill civil rights measures in the past few years.

He called this "a sordid bargain" and said its purpose was to split the South and pave the way for the election of a Republican president this year.

"That's the deal they made," Truman said. And, he added, departing from his prepared speech: "It's not going to do a bit of good."

Millions Lost In Tax On Fox Film Estate; Senator Asks Inquiry

By J. FRANK TRAGLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Martin (R-Pa.) today asked the Justice Department to investigate the settlement of a $5,166,380 tax claim for $295,000.

Martin said in a letter to Atty. Gen. James P. McGranery that the claim was against the late William Fox, film and theater executive, for 1935 and "all prior years."

Compromise Accepted

The senator said the claim involved taxes, penalties and interest and that from information he acquired "it would appear that the government could have recovered the entire amount."

Martin said that at the time of the settlement in 1941 the FBI was of the opinion that an important stock transfer was not made until four years after Fox had said it was made. And, Martin said, the Internal Revenue Bureau knew of the FBI's findings.

Martin said the compromise settlement was accepted by the then Attorney general, Francis Biddle, on Dec. 5, 1941, and the money was paid to the collector of internal revenue in New York on Feb. 10, 1942.

Informed of Martin's letter to McGranery, Commissioner of Internal Revenue John Dunlap released a letter to Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance Committee, of which Martin is a member.

Dunlap's lengthy letter, dated June 4, was similar in content to Martin's letter. It said that, before the compromise settlement was accepted, the revenue bureau had "informal" advice that the trust for Mrs. Fox was not executed until 1935. It said that, while legal memoranda and correspondence mention an FBI report, no FBI report on the case apparently was ever received by the revenue bureau.

Dunlap said the revenue bureau settled for $295,000 because it felt that was all that could be obtained. Martin asked McGranery to determine if political pressure was exerted or anything illegal done to obtain the settlement; to learn if any employee who handled the case are now working for the Treasury, Justice Department or Internal Revenue Bureau, and to see if the government could "recover the $4,871,380 loss suffered by the taxpayers."

Potter-Moody Feud Continues

(By The Associated Press)

Michigan candidates had the home field to themselves today as President Truman pulled out. No more national figures are scheduled for the Michigan spotlight before Tuesday's voting.

While Truman was swining at Republicans generally, Senator Blair Moody D-Mich., whose election the President recommended, took swipes at his GOP opponent, Rep. Charles Potter R-Mich.

Moody termed Potter the "subsidary" of the "Big Three of the auto industry," and criticized GOP fund-raising activities which he said "border on political extortion under economic duress."

The senator accused auto manufacturers of forcing Republican campaign contributions from dealers, manufacturers agents and executives.

Moody spoke in a state-wide radio broadcast from Detroit.

Potter, meanwhile, told a Bay City Republican rally that Moody "clearly has been chosen as torpedo man to sabotage the committee on un-American Activities during the course of this national campaign."

"He is the lead man of the political goon squads which are now attempting to eliminate this committee, which is the strongest bulwark of the people against communism from within," Potter said.

Lack Of Laughter Behind Iron Curtain Worries Communists

By RICHARD O'REGAN

VIENNA (AP) — The Communists have suddenly become worried about the lack of laughter behind the Iron Curtain.

They complain they can't find anyone to amuse them—because the type of laughter they want has to be political.

Western diplomats in Communist capitals say nobody has been laughing for years. Faced with the general grimmace of life, overwork, shortages of food, people on the streets of Moscow, Budapest, Prague and Bucharest are rarely seen to crack a smile.

Faces All Gloom

On trains and buses, passengers sit in virtual silence, staring cheerlessly before them. Young couples rarely laugh and tease in public. Humor in night clubs is impossibly dull; it is never heard on the radio, infrequently seen in newspapers.

"Everybody seems to be afraid to laugh for fear someone will report them to the police," said a diplomat who recently had his first experience of communism. "It seems to me that laughter is considered almost a sin."

Concern about the lack of merriment recently forced the Czechoslovak newspaper Prace to complain there weren't enough new operettas to amuse people. The old ones, it said, couldn't be played any more because they were "bourgeois."

Four Censored

"Many Czechoslovak musicians," it said, "would like to write music for an operetta, but there are no authors to write the text."

The newspaper gave one reason why funny writers apparently can't be found. It said that "laughter and satire must be raised to be weapons exposing the traitors of the people and a means of educating people."

This means no spontaneous humor, nothing funny that hasn't first been censored by the government.

The Moscow Literary Gazette also expressed worry recently about the lack of humor on the stage and in movies.

Afraid of Critics

The magazine complained: "Nobody wants to write comedies for the movies or for the theater. If one turns to a prominent writer with a request for a comedy, one is refused quickly and categorically."

"This fear of the comedy is due to the fact that several critics, who lack any sense of humor, attack almost every new comedy that is written. They declare everything funny to be unauthentic and estranged from reality....

"The comedy may, and must, play a great part in our life. But it is the most neglected kind of art. There is not one comic script among the movies for 1952. Our stage also does not know laughter."

Students To Have Halloween Parties In City Tonight

Tonight is the night the spooks are out riding, and if the goblins don't get you some of the school children's costumes for parties to-night will.

At Escanaba Senior high school, students are having a masquerade ball and will dance to music by Ivan Kobasic from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. Students will stage a floor show and awards will be made for the best and funniest costumes.

The younger set at Escanaba Junior high school is preparing for an evening of movies and dancing in the school gym and Oliver auditorium.

Along with the dancing and costuming will go the usual Halloween treats and favors, and rooms have been specially decorated in a Halloween motif.

The city's five grade schools have carnivals scheduled this evening, in cooperation with the school Parent-Teacher groups.

Parochial schools also have scheduled Halloween parties for the youngsters.

St. Patrick school this afternoon had a party, replete with costumes, games, lunch and prizes. St. Joseph school children, both grade and high school, are having their annual Halloween carnival tonight. The traditional spook room, games and refreshments are on the program for the evening's fun.

So, if you see funny little characters, or big ones for that matter, gliding along school pathways this evening, we hope you won't recognize the kid next door.

Eisenhower Bares Democrat Attempt To Destroy Him

Edward Miller, head of the security forces for the building fixed the attendance at 23,000.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate, also filled the hall two nights earlier. Which of the two drew greater attendance could not be determined, since there were unknown numbers of standees to hear both candidates.

This was Eisenhower's blue chip effort in the New York area. Climax Well-Staged

He spent three days this week in or near New York City, campaigning from morning until at night. He worked a 13-hour schedule and sometimes longer. And he threw his full energy into the drive.

It all came to a colorful, noisy, and well-staged climax in the Garden.

For more than four hours before Eisenhower appeared, movie stars, sports figures, singers, dancers, political leaders—and more than 20 women from various walks of life—paraded across the stage.

Finally, Eisenhower went before the television cameras, accompanied by a deafening roar of applause, and began his speech.

He quickly hit one of his main themes, recalling that some Democrats wanted him to be the party candidate in 1948.

That gave him the opportunity to say the opposition wanted him "to be the man to defend government corruption, excuse their coddling of Communists, and apologize for their vacillating policies."

He asked: "How could they dare think I was their man?"

Working For Peace

Yet, Eisenhower said, he is the same man now as he was four years ago. He said he has not changed, and he is nobody's "captive."

This apparently was a reply to Stevenson's claim that the general "swallowed" Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio "hook, line and sinker."

Eisenhower said he came home to run for president for three reasons—"many millions of Americans wanted me to...I wanted to work for peace...It remains my conviction that neither the present administration nor any candidate committed to it can do the job either at home or abroad that America will be called upon to do in the next four years."

Eisenhower said it is the Democrats, not he, who have changed. "Because they could not exploit me, they are determined to destroy me," he declared.

LARGEST CANAL LOCK

The world's largest canal lock, 1312 feet long and 164 feet wide, capable of raising the largest ship afloat, is located in The Netherlands.

Chafes Under Restraint

"Now Gen. James A. Van Fleet, who has done such a magnificent job as commander in Korea, is coming home," the statement said, adding:

"Quick punishment is what awaits our ranking and most experienced military men who oppose our bankrupt policy of being bled of our finest manhood for an indefinite stalemate."

The Daily News story by John O'Donnell, its Washington Bureau chief, said Van Fleet was a West Point classmate of Eisenhower, and added:

"Like MacArthur, he has been bucking political decisions, and has chafed under the restraints. His letter revealed this to the anger of Truman and the Fair Deal political headquarters."

"The old question of Army seniority and pride of rank also comes into the picture. Van Fleet was graduated from West Point in 1915, two years ahead of his present military superior in the Far East, Gen. Mark Clark."

Grows To 400,000

When Clark took over in Tokyo he was immediately advised of the department's emphasis on expanding the ROK forces and of "the advisability of replacing some U. S. and other U. N. troops" with them.

Clark has reported increased use of South Korean manpower with U. S. units, the statement added. It said the South Korean Service Corps, which performs essential supply duties for all U. N. forces, has been increased to approximately 100,000 men.

The South Korean Army has grown, the department said, from some 30,000 in the early days of the war to more than 400,000.

Congress Is Asked To Lift Bars For Foreign Scientists

WASHINGTON — Spokesmen for several score professional societies and a government agency have urged that Congress make it easier for foreign scientists and scholars to attend conferences in this country.

Probably 50 per cent of those seeking to come here for short visits run into difficulties or delays, said Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation.

Howard A. Meyerhoff, administrative secretary of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, said that as a result American science is threatened with "becoming atrophied to the point where the national welfare and national security will suffer."

Exclusion Law Denounced

Meyerhoff and Waterman, appearing before the President's Commission on Immigration and Naturalization yesterday, proposed several revisions of the new McCarran-Walter Immigration Act to let down some of the bars which stirred a recent protest from a group of atomic scientists.

The new law, which becomes effective Dec. 24, was denounced by opponents in Congress as an anti-alien "exclusion" measure.

One suggestion advanced at yesterday's hearing was that scholarly visitors be exempted from extensive security checks, questionnaires and other administrative procedures to which immigrants are subjected.

Prof. Sidney Painter of Johns Hopkins University, speaking for the American Council of Learned Societies, proposed that American passport and immigration officials accept statements from foreign universities and research institutions vouching for scientists and scholars.

Best In World

Waterman estimated that the number of scientific visitors to this country each year is probably less than 3,000.

"But the scientists who do come here are important to our scientific strength out of all proportion to their number, for they consist, generally speaking, of the best scientific minds of the free world outside his country," he said, adding:

"Radar, the atomic bomb, jet aircraft and penicillin were perfected in the United States on the basis of discoveries and research in foreign countries to which we were given ready access."

Maraudings End With Capture Of Possum

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Neighborhood housewives had been worried recently by unexplained midnight pantry raids and garbage can forays.

The mystery was solved with the capture of a 'possum on the steps of a local hotel. The captor, Samuel Brantley, owner of the hotel, used to hunt 'possum in his younger days in Georgia.

When Brantley seized the animal by the throat the unlucky 'possum was playing possum.

Vote IKE all the way!

Communism is an ever growing danger... not a distant, intangible menace but a force dedicated to the overthrow of our government, and it's here, now. The present Democrat administration in Washington and the Governor in Lansing ignore this. They blocked every attempt to ferret out the Alger Hiss in key government posts and are blind to Communies who are trying to take over labor unions.

The war in Korea—the one the Democrats call a "police-action"—since its start has resulted in more than 119,000 American casualties. Only a strong and sound foreign policy based on intelligence instead of hysteria can lead us out of this horrible war the Democrats have blundered into.

Internally, our strength has been our prosperity that came from high production, free enterprise and minimum government controls. In the 20 years of Democrat reign we have seen our true prosperity and growth stunted by taxation. Today the tax collector takes 33c of every dollar we earn. Last year every Michigan man, woman and child paid $410.34 in Federal taxes alone.

Your Republican candidates—on both the State and National ballots are pledged to safeguard America and our basic beliefs in individual and collective freedom. Every man on this Michigan Republican team is pledged to work wholeheartedly with Ike Eisenhower to help return America to the high moral and spiritual level our forefathers built for us.

Desert Valley Remade Fertile

WASHINGTON—In sun-seared valleys of a river that never reaches the sea, American dam builders are helping the one-time "Secret Kingdom" of Afghanistan reclaim and ancient gardenland.

A huge irrigation project, begun six years ago, is nearing completion along the Helmand River and a tributary, the Arghandab, in the barren rocky foothills of southern Afghanistan, the National Geographic Society says.

To aid in settling pastoral families on the newly reclaimed land, a team of American agricultural experts will take part in joint development of the Helmand Valley. The project is sponsored by the forward-looking government of Afghanistan, the United Nations and the Point Four technical assistance program of the United States.

Asian Battleground

The reclamation project follows guideposts of forgotten centuries. Where earth and concrete dams, irrigation canals and ditches appear today, similar systems once watered fertile fields of empires that were old when Darius and Alexander, Genghis Khan and Timur the Lame merched across this battleground of Central Asia. The Helmand River may once have been the rival of the Nile, the Tigris and the Euphrates as a seat of early civilization. Along its lower course, the ruins of great cities of medieval Islam rise starkly from windblown wastes of the Dasht-i-Margo, the "Desert of Death." There is evidence of culture far older.

The desert river flows past signs of irrigation and cultivation reaching back to prehistoric times. What happened in many cases is not known. The river may have shifted its course as countless rivers have done. Diminishing rainfall may have dried wells and subterranean channels. Agricultural peoples may have fled before the legions of conquest.

Today, from mountains to desert, the winding streams which feed the Helmand flow through virtually barren hinterland where nomads live in tents of black goat hair and wrest a meager living from the hot, dusty hills.

River Disappears

Passing through the deserts to the south, the river barely reaches the Iranian border before it disappears. It empties not into the sea but into the great Seistan depression, a little-explored region of reeds and swamps swept by howling winds that blow continuously for months at a time.

Kandahar, trading center and way stop on an age-old caravan route to India, is the only major city in the Helmand watershed. Three dams have been built in the Kandahar region, tied together by laterals and interlocking irrigation channels.

Afghanistan is still a land without a railroad, but in many ways it is catching up with the centuries in which all foreign influence and progress were rigidly excluded. Today, camel transport is giving way to trucks on new highways through the hinterland. Factories are being built, and new schools opened. The secret kingdom will be secret no more.

Delta County War Veterans Show Excellent Results In On-The-Job Farm Training

By ROSE LACHAPPELLE

Thirty-five Delta County men who served with the armed forces in World War II now are studying scientific farming under the GI bill.

Since the on-the-job training program was inaugurated here in 1947, 28 Delta County men have completed the four-year training program, Al Mathison, director of the Veterans' Institute, states.

Peak enrollment for Delta County farm students was reached in April, 1950, when 75 were taking on-the-job training.

Most of the men who studied under the GI bill have been under public law 346. Some however, including seven in the current enrollment, study under Public Law 16, for disabled veterans.

No Korean Veterans

Two instructors, Guy Williams and Robert Schaffer, teach the veterans, who meet once a week at Escanaba Senior High school for a 4-hour class. Instructors visit each farm every two weeks for individual instruction and aid.

Most trainees are self-proprietors, and have made considerable improvement on their farms. Two of the current student group are employees of other farmers and are studying farm management.

To date, no Korean veterans have sought on-the-job training in Delta County. The procedure under the GI bill for Korean veterans is different, however, in that students receive their tuition money and pay the institutions.

Built Up Soils

"Seventy-five to 80 per cent of the men enrolled for on-the-job training were good cooperators," Guy Williams, one of the instructors, has observed.

Most veterans had to build up farmlands, which were easily exhausted because soils in this area are shallow, and also had to improve herds by culling and breeding. Williams, a University of Wisconsin graduate, points out.

Soil testers were available for veterans taking farm training, and through these they were able to determine what mineral elements and fertilizers were needed.

Because the natural fertility of the soils was down, the quality of the feed supply was similarly affected, and animals were not getting proper feed, the instructor notes.

Cobalt Deficiency

Williams, who states the trainees are interested in top production from herds and lands, tells an interesting story of a veteran who had trouble with a cow.

The veteran, Walter Nelson, of Rapid River, Route One, noticed that a yearling heifer in his herd was "staggering." In class, he had learned of experiments at Michigan State College which showed animals sometimes behaved that way from a mineral deficiency.

Nelson diagnosed that his cow had a cobalt deficiency and hurried to buy a bottle. He gave the heifer half of the cobalt and she was well.

The same animal now is one of the top producers in his herd, with an average yield of over 44 pounds of butterfat per month.

Four-Year Rotation

Nelson, who was one of the top students in the farm training program, has increased his butterfat production from an average per cow of 310 pounds per year to more than 350 pounds per year in a five year period. He has one cow which produces over 450 pounds of butterfat per year and a three-year-old which gives 80.7 pounds of butterfat monthly. In full production he ships about 60 gallons of milk daily, from 12 cows.

Nelson's grain and hay production figures also have climbed. When he started tilling his father's 140-acre farm, grain yield averaged about 350 bushels on a 9-acre tract. Since he has had yields ranging from 89 bushels per acre three years ago to 1006 bushels on 11.4 acres.

Nelson follows a four-year rotation for crops, planting grain one year, hay two years and pasturing for one year. His hay yields this year averaged three tons per acre. He harvested more than 70 tons of hay and 1,035 bushels of grain.

Purebred Guernseys

In addition to working with the land and herd, Nelson has remodeled buildings on the farm, which he purchased early this year from his father, Peter Nelson. He remodeled the barn in 1947, and three years ago built a milk house. He now is building a granary and shed.

Nelson, who served 32 months with the artillery of the 5th and 7th armies in Africa, Italy, France, Belgium and Germany in World War II, completed his training this year.

Another Rapid River farmer who has earned high regard from agriculture instructors and veteran farmers is Everett Wils, who farms a 160-acre tract. Wils, who married a Polish refugee he met in an American hospital in France, likes purebred cattle and now has a herd of 22 head. He has 12 milk cows, all but five of which are purebred Guernseys.

Rains Damage Grain

Wils, who now is building a machine shed, started with two cows and a "broken down Model A" after working in a Gladstone mill. His farm was "rundown," and, before he could advance much, it was necessary to remodel an old barn. He plans to build a new barn, and to obtain more land. He now rents 25 acres in addition to his own farmlands, and next year plans to rent more. He also plans to "clear" more land for tilling.

His hay yield this summer will provide enough hay for stock this winter. His grain production was only 950 bushels on a 25-acre field, but he estimates the yield would have been at least 200 bushels better if rainy weather hadn't "knocked the grain down" in the field.

Wils' cows produce close to 350 pounds of butterfat yearly, though his actual production record is 322 pounds, because he is feeding calves to build up the herd.

Vitamins For Cows

In addition to remodeling the barn, Wils has completely renovated the farmhouse, and has constructed a milkshed, which utilizes a flowing well for cooling milk.

The GI farmer, who served 18 months with the Army medical corps in France, has also installed a fan in the barn, to provide better ventilation for his herd and to eliminate odors. A ventilating system is recommended by agricultural experts.

Both of these farmers determine the needs of their animals through class instruction and their own experimentation. "They are careful to see that each has plenty of good roughage grains, protein supplements, minerals and vitamins," Williams notes.

Low Bacteria Counts The agricultural instructor points out that the farmers accomplish this by feeding trace mineral salt, alfalfa hay, home-grown grains and a small amount of protein by-product supplement, such as soybean oil meal, which they have to buy. These men are learning ways to use less purchased concentrates, yet increase production, he explains.

"They feed the land as well as the animals, thus increasing the quality of their hay," the Wisconsin university graduate observes.

Neither of these men have ever had a milk bacterial count above the smallest bracket in dairy reporting, which is less than 2500. They usually rank about 7,000-10,000, Williams states. This is exceptionally low.

In the current class of 35 veterans, many are doing an "outstanding job" in potato, dairy and general farming, Williams asserts. Dairy farming practices to secure high soil and animal production form the basis in the on-the-job training course, but additional instruction is also given in timberland management, small fruit production and gardening.

22 Still Farming

Veterans who have completed their entitlement or were graduated in July, 1951, and who are still farming, include the following: Hector Beauchamp of Flat Rock, dairy farmer; Harold Berquist, artificial inseminator for Delta County; George Cholger of Hyde, who dairy farms in partnership with his father; Ronald Dietrich, who is in partnership with his brother in dairy and potato farming; Leo J. Jokinen of Rock, dairy farmer; Vilho Kaukula of West Rock, dairy farmer; Kenneth Konkel of Bark River, dairy farmer; Hartley LaBute of Garden, dairy farmer; Francis Lancelot of Flat Rock, who raises dairy calves; Leo Lancelot of Flat Rock, dairy farmer; Lloyd Peterson of Bark River, dairy farmer; Lawrence Posenke of Trenary, dairy farmer; Isaac Ranta of Rock, dairy farmer; Onni Simms of Rock, dairy farmer; Leonard Spaulding of Garden, dairy farmer; John Lester of Garden, dairy and livestock farming; Alex Urbane of Bark River, who with his brother is engaged in milk production and potato growing; John Kiefasz of Bark River; Gordon Johnson of Cornell, Albert Nelson of Rock, Leon Rochefort of Fayette and William Dahn of Brampton.

Drainage Problems

One veteran, John Lester of Garden, is operating three farms now, after starting out with 40 acres, a cow and a heifer in October, 1947.

Outstanding work in pasture production and dairy work was done by Alex Urbane and his brother on their Bark River farm, the instructor states.

Veterans in the Rock area had to solve drainage problems as well as soil fertility and dairy problems.

Of the veterans who took the on-the-job training in Delta County, about seven are no longer farming. Three of them are "temporarily" not farming and four were farm-employees who took the course.

"We haven't scored 100 per cent, but we've made better farmers," Williams observes.

Walter Nelson of Rapid River builds barn addition.

Thompson

THOMPSON—Announcements were received this week of the approaching marriage of Miss Charlene Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Johnson to Gerald Turek of Nahma. The ceremony will take place Saturday, Nov. 8, at St. Francis de Sales Church in Manistique and the reception will be held at the Civic Center in Nahma.

The Community Club sponsored a Halloween party this (Friday) afternoon for school children.

Mr. and Mrs. John Olsen are visiting with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Olsen of Milwaukee and with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Larson and two sons of Racine. They plan to attend the dedication of the new school recently completed at St. Lawrence College, Mt. Calvary, Wis., Nov. 2.

Mrs. Sigfred Erickson and children visited her mother, Mrs. Gaiety Hart at Cooks Tuesday.

Several cases of flu were reported in the area this week.

First wheat hybrids resistant to the deadly yellow streak mosaic virus have been developed by plant scientists at the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Opium Raids Force Addicts Out Into Open In Singapore

By A. L. MCINTYRE

SINGAPORE (AP)—Relentless police raids on illegal opium dens in this British colony have forced addicts to come into the open and appeal for government distribution of the drug.

Truckloads of police swoop several times a night on some of the estimated 2,000 dens in Chinatown and along the waterfront and riverside districts.

Hundreds Jailed

Since the campaign began last July, more than 550 persons have been charged before the courts and 333 have been jailed for smoking, running dens and trafficking in the drug. Smokers get sentences of two weeks imprisonment, the den-keepers and smugglers six months.

The addicts, under the name of the "Opium Smokers Association," appealed to Gov. John F. Nicoll to reintroduce legal opium distribution in the name of "humanity and mercy." The petition added: "The millions that opium brought to the government's coffers before the war now seeps underground into the pockets of smugglers."

Rations Unlikely

A legislative councillor, Dr. C. J. Paglar, asked the government to consider registering the estimated 80,000 addicts here and rationing the drug to them on a diminishing scale.

There is not much likelihood the Singapore government will consider seriously either suggestion. The colonial secretary, W. L. Blythe, made this statement: "We are sure depriving addicts of opium is the only certain cure. I cannot agree at this stage that the government should open the opium trade and introduce rationing."

Cost Goes Up Before World War II, the Malaya and Borneo governments grossed profits equal to 6½ million dollars annually from opium.

Most of Singapore's opium dens are hovels in which weary Chinese coolies relax with the pipe after the day's labor. Others are luxurious apartments staffed by pretty Chinese hostesses.

Before the war opium cost $4.30 for 1¼ ounces. Now it costs $23 for the same amount. A smoker pays 35 cents for enough to fill a pipe.

Tallulah The Great Back In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Tallulah's back in town! Tallulah Who? Bankhead, you dope. The Alabama Tornado is again facing the film cameras after seven years in other pursuits. This time she's emoting for "Main Street to Broadway," the co-operative venture to benefit the legit theatres.

Since Taloo is the reporter's delight in producing quotes, I dropped in to see her at work. But alas, she was too wrapped up in enacting a double fantasy. In the first sequence, she played a wicked woman who poisoned six people, including herself. In the second, she was a demure housewife (this required real acting for Taloo).

All In the Book
 All this labor consumed her time and she was not able to chit-chat. However, she had presented me with a copy of her new autobiography, inscribed "with love" (a standard inscription, I'm sure). So instead of querying her, I got my answers from her book.

I was interested in her previous adventures in Hollywood. I came across her confession about her film career in the early '30s:

"I was no great shakes. I was victimized by the mechanics of the whole business. In Hollywood you do nothing for yourself. You don't even apply your own make-up. You are awakened, taken to the studio, made up. I was a set-up for that formula. You play your roles in snips and dribbles, harassed by delays, interruptions and stupidities."

Dinner In Slacks
 She wrote of her invitation to a "strictly informal" dinner given by Joan Crawford. Taloo arrived in slacks to find la Crawford decked out as if she were attending the Metropolitan Opera.

Miss Crawford promised her a "surprise dinner companion." He was Jackie Cooper, 8.

Some time later, Walter Wanger arranged a blind date for Tallulah. Her escort turned out to be Gary Cooper, the "strong silent type."

"Silent is right," she adds. "Gary never opened his trap throughout the evening."

The next day a columnist reported the pair engaged. This prompted Reuters to cable from England: "Confirm engagement to Gary Cooper." Tallulah cabled back: "You have it all wrong. Am engaged to Jackie Cooper."

She says that one London daily headlined: "Tallulah engaged to John Cooper." The paper even dragged out a morgue photo of a John Cooper, a retired golf pro. Her engagement to Ronald Colman, a man she had not yet met, was later reported.

Licks The Screen
 Her first movie career was something of a fiasco. But she returned 12 years later and won the New York Critics Award for her performance in "Lifeboat."

"At last I had licked the screen, a screen which had six times betrayed me," she writes. "Did I get an Academy Oscar? No! The people who vote in that free-for-all know on which side their crepes suzette are buttered. I wasn't under contract to any of the major studios, hence was thought an outlaw."

Come to think of it, it's much easier on the nerves interviewing Taloo via book than in the flesh. As Howard Dietz once remarked, "A day away from Tallulah is like a week in the country."

"Ever since he's enjoyed the reputation of a great wit," Taloo says scornfully.

KNOW THE ISSUES

VOTE INTELLIGENTLY

The Michigan Citizens Committee on Election Issues is concerned with the issues and not with the personalities in this campaign. It holds that this election poses issues of gravest consequence to our national welfare and security.

The issues we have selected are drawn from lists of issues deemed of greatest national importance by the League of Women Voters and by a committee representing the social action agencies of seven churches—(Church of the Brethren; Evangelical and Reformed Church; Methodist Church; American Baptist Convention; Congregational Christian Churches; Disciples of Christ; and Society of Friends.)

The United States Senate is the forum where these issues will be fully debated and decided. Control of the Senate may turn on the outcome of elections in a small number of states. That is why the Committee is publishing this advertisement. It shows, from the record, the positions on vital issues of the Michigan Senatorial Candidates: Blair Moody, Democrat, and Charles Potter, Republican. We choose for comparison six issues of grave importance to you and the nation. This is how the two candidates voted on these issues:

1. CONTROL COST OF LIVING

The Defense Production Act provides for control of wages, prices and rents. Unless renewed by Act of Congress, it would have expired June 30 this year and controls would have ceased.

On the renewal of wage, price and rent controls—

3. FUNDS FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

The Senate voted on September 13, 1951, and the House on April 9, 1952, on proposals to slash $6,000,000,000 from the funds recommended by the standing committees as necessary for building up the Army, Navy and Airforce.

On appropriating the full amount recommended for defense—

5. RECIPROCAL TRADE

Most nations of the world are in debt to the United States but have goods with which to repay us. The Reciprocal Trade Act not only facilitates repayment, but also encourages, through mutual reduction of tariffs, the flow of goods through the free world.

2. "TIDELANDS" OIL FOR EDUCATION

Earmarking part of the revenues from off-shore oil resources to help meet the growing needs of our public school system was an important issue before Congress when it debated whether to retain national control of these resources or to turn them over to three coastal states.

On retaining national control of oil resources—

4. AID FOR OUR ALLIES

The Mutual Security Act strengthens collective security in the context of the free world with Communist imperialism. It authorizes grants for military aid to NATO countries, for economic aid under the "Marshall Plan" and for "Point Four" assistance to underdeveloped countries.

On passage of the Mutual Security Act in 1951 and in 1952—

6. THE IMMIGRATION ACT OF 1952

The McCarran-Walter Immigration Act maintains the 1920 system of immigration quotas, giving large quotas to western and northern European nations and small quotas to eastern and southern European nations. It also denies to naturalized citizens important rights that are enjoyed by natural-born Americans.

Grandma Burrell Is Sparkplug At Little Falls, N. Y.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Meet Cornelia P. Burrell of Little Falls, N. Y.

For most of her 70-odd years she has left politicking to the men folks and concentrated on other good works, such as the Community Chest, the local Pine Crest Sanatorium, the Presbyterian church and the PTA.

This year, however, Mrs. Burrell has made it her personal responsibility to see that every citizen of Little Falls goes to the polls next Tuesday. For the last few months she has been making speeches, leading rallies, heading discussion groups, ringing doorbells and spending hours on the telephone urging her friends to get into the big push.

Community Is Model
So successful has she been that the community of Little Falls has been spotlighted as a national model by the American Heritage Foundation, an organization dedicated to the same job on a national scale.

Of course many Little Falls citizens have taken part in the campaign to pile up a record vote, but Mrs. Burrell seems to have sparked the whole thing—and she's been having a whale of a good time doing it. Asked how she happened to jump into the campaign with both feet after a lifetime of lady-like detachment from the political scene, she said:

"Because it was brought to my attention, as never before, that so small a percentage of eligible voters had cast their vote in previous elections."

Makes 24 Beds
"Because we, women, homemakers, certainly have not only a greater percentage of the vote, but we have in our hands the moulding of future citizens, for whom we desire so greatly an America of which we and they can be justly, honestly proud."

Mrs. Burrell has four daughters, one son and 13 grand children. She keeps 24 beds made up all the time at Diamond Hill, the big family home outside Little Falls, just in case any of her family come home. But she finds time to "mother" the whole community, always ready with cheery help wherever it is needed.

Despite her years, she plays golf and tennis, swims and maintains a ski run near her country home. She's good with a toboggan, too.

Glorifying The U. S. Leg

WHAT'S YOUR LENGTH?
Correct length insures better looks and longer wear in nylon hosiery.

LEG WITH A GLEAM
New high luster nylons add glamor to beautiful legs. These are in black.

PEEK-A-BEAU
New velvet embossed motif in black adds daring note to nylons for evening wear.

The one thing most envied by women of other countries is the beauty and availability of American nylon stockings.

In the making of stockings, as in the manufacture of motor cars, there's no beating U. S. know-how. Year after year American manufacturers put the sheerest and most flattering nylons within reach of every budget, and year after year American legs grow more glamorous.

This year a number of new gimmicks are offered for the further glorification of glamorous legs. One is the new high luster in nylons developed by Roy E. Tilles, of Gotham Hosiery Co., who says:

"For the first time since the ingrain silk stockings of Ziegfeld Follies days, the leg with a gleam can be yours again."

New decorations such as jeweled clocks and embossed velvet motifs are in vogue for after-five wear this year. The latter, designed by Ardmore, features a black embossed lacing at the back of the stocking.

No matter how beautiful your stockings may be, they won't look well unless they are the right length, says Leonard J. Solomon, of Manchester Hosiery Mills, who gives the following rules for determining correct hosiery length:

"Lay your present hosiery on a flat surface and measure from the middle of the turn of the heel to the top of the stocking. If you have found them to be a comfortable fit, remember the number of inches so that you can order the same length again. If they are too short or too long, estimate the length that is right for you—and remember it."

AS WE LIVE

You Must Exert Yourself To Make Real Friends

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.
You can't just sit back and wait to have people ask you to be friends. The trouble with the girl who wrote this letter is that she isn't doing her share:

(Q) "I'm very lonely. I get plenty of chances to correct this but I back away. Why? Because I'm afraid. I live in a town but don't participate in its activities. I go to a school in another town which is hard to get to. So I don't have any girl friends from either town. Please help me in this difficult problem."

(A) This is a problem you will have to solve yourself. I can give you some suggestions but working them out will be your own job.

In the first place, is it necessary to go to school in another town? Isn't there a school at home you could attend? What do the other girls your age do about their schooling?

If the town where you attend school is hard to get to, it means you'll miss doing things with your classmates after school, over weekends, or during holidays. You can't "belong."

In your own town, you can't "belong" either, because you're not in school with other girls your age. They have their circle friends, made up from their classmates.

Think seriously about this problem and then try to make arrangements to change schools. You will get a good education in any school if you apply yourself.

Then, after you change, go out of your way to win friends. Invite the girls to your home, suggest activities they will enjoy, and tawke an active part in school affairs. Unless you develop friendships now, you will find yourself very lonely when school days are over.

Eisenhower Is Man Nation Needs, Says Democrat Governor

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Republican presidential candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower will give the United States world leadership it sorely needs, Democratic Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina believes.

On the other hand, Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson has "sundered completely to the Truman administration," Byrnes asserted in a talk prepared for delivery at a luncheon rally of Democrats for Eisenhower.

Stevenson Sidelstepped

Byrnes said Sept. 18 he would vote for the Republican party standardbearer, and on Sept. 30

Students Will Vote Tuesday

Manistique high school students, following a political rally in the high school auditorium Monday afternoon, will gain experience in election procedures by casting ballots for national, state and local candidates Tuesday, Nov. 4, it is announced by Carl Olson, principal.

Plans for the election were drafted by the school's social science teachers — Mrs. Harold Martinson, Miss Eleanor Wacker, William J. Cook and Joseph Giovannini — in cooperation with Principal Olson.

It was decided to follow regular election pattern in conducting the voting, with registration of voters taking place this week, a rally Monday afternoon, and the casting of ballots on Tuesday.

During the rally, students will campaign for the various office seekers, with Nick Babaladis acting as program chairman. Speakers, who will give talks on the qualifications of various candidates, will represent each of the four high school grades. Speakers will be: Seniors, Robert Nelson and Mary Ann Mineoff who will talk on the president and vice president; juniors, Robert Bouscher and Donna Patz who will speak on the nominees for the U. S. House of Representatives; sophomores, Robert Corson and Mary Ella Giovannini who will speak on the governors; freshmen, Catherine Hall and Gail LaBrasseur who will discuss the U. S. senatorial candidates.

On Tuesday students will vote during study hall periods, or during the noon hour and after school if they are without study hall time.

Hold Memorial Service Sunday At Zion Lutheran

The annual service in memory of members who have died during the past year will be held at Zion Lutheran Church next Sunday at 10:30 a. m. The first Sunday in November of each year is set aside for this memorial.

Rev. G. A. Herbert will give the memorial address on the theme, "Happy Saints," and Holy Communion will be celebrated. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. James Fyvie, will sing the anthem, "Hark, Hark, My Soul," by Shelley.

The following will be memorialized on Sunday: Anton Olson, Mrs. August Carlson, Erick Wallberg, Carl Soderback, Andrew Carlson, Mrs. Mary Lindstrom, Peter James Larson and David Nelson.

Will Reorganize City Cage Loop At Meeting Monday

An organization meeting of city basketball players will be held at 7 p. m. Monday, Nov. 3, at City Hall to make plans for the fall and winter season, it is announced.

Managers and team representatives are requested to attend the session.

Drafting of league playing rules is on the agenda, and practice nights and hours will be announced at the meeting.

Former Manistique Woman Winner In National Contest

One of two Upper Peninsula prize winners in a recent national ice cream snapshot contest was won by a former Manistique resident, it is announced.

The winner was Mrs. Gerald Shirck, now a resident of Long Beach, Calif. Mrs. Shirck resided here when she entered the contest, submitting an unusual picture of a red squirrel devouring an ice cream cone on her dining room table.

The contest was sponsored locally by Nelson's Cloverland Creamery and Robert Oberg, route man who delivered milk to the Shircks, also received a contest prize.

Chinese Reds Fight Unemployment Crisis

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Reds have drafted some of their biggest names for Labor Employment Committee to deal with the growing unemployment problem. The Communists say that 3 million of China's 450 million population are out of work. The figure may be higher.

The Reds say that unemployment is a heritage of the Chinese Nationalist regime or is caused by Communist production efficiency, the liberation of millions of housewives from their kitchens and the lack of arable land. Red China is seeking to solve the problem by restrictions on the dismissal of workers, wage changes, shorter hours (to eight and 10 hours daily) and government land reclamation, reforestation, water conservation projects and railroad and road building.

Establishment Of Prison Camp Near Here Is Discussed

Plans for opening a prison camp in the Manistique area were approved by representatives of the Manistique City Council, the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce, and the Schoolcraft County Board of Supervisors at a meeting with state officials here Wednesday night.

Construction of the proposed camp on U. S. National Forest land in Inwood township will start in the spring, it was announced by state men at the meeting.

Short term offenders imprisoned for minor felonies will be housed at the camp and used for improvement work at Indian Lake State Park, Palm-Book State Park and the Thompson Fish Hatchery, local officials were told.

Prisoners Carefully Screened—All prisoners used at the camp will be carefully screened, and will be under the control of a camp commander, a sergeant and three guards. The camp area will be posted and there will be no leaves for the prisoners. No sex offenders will be included in the work detail.

Work to be performed by the prisoners will be primarily at Indian Lake State Park where camping capacity has become overtaxed. No state funds have been provided for the work, and unless prison labor is used the improvements will not be done, state officials pointed out.

The camp will be similar to several others which have been successfully operated in Michigan for several years, including one at Shingleton where prison labor was extensively used to develop the Casino wildlife area.

Work Need Stressed—The necessity of enlarging and improving the Indian Lake park was emphasized by Department of Conservation officials at the session. Type of work to be done is principally hand labor. Conservation men stressed the ideal recreation advantages of the park, and said that with adequate development its patronage would undoubtedly be substantially increased.

The park was described as ranking second in Michigan in camping load, with an average of 115 campers a night during the summer season.

State officials reported that gasoline, oils and other prison camp supplies would be purchased in the Manistique area, and that local skilled labor would be employed whenever necessary.

No prison labor would be used at the Wyman nursery, it was stated.

State Officials Present—Representing the state at the meeting were Paul H. Chase, of Lansing, administrative assistant in the Corrections Department; T. George Hurdley, of Marquette, captain of U. P. prison camps; Glenn C. Gregg, regional supervisor of state parks for the Michigan Department of Conservation; and James A. Scully, of Marquette, regional supervisor for the department's fish division.

Local governmental units were represented by Vern C. Linderoth, mayor of Manistique and member of the county board; George Stephens, city councilman and chairman of the county board; and A. W. Heitman, city councilman and supervisor.

Representing the chamber of commerce were Carl Graves, president, and Fred D. Heitman, executive secretary.

TNT Of Time, Nerves, Tension Is Problem, Says Girl Scouter

"Our greatest problem at present seems to be the combative thing we term TNT — tension, nerves and time. This situation is brought about by the condition of the world and its ever-changing pace, but we must take stock of ourselves and determine which are the things most worth our while. We should consider Girl Scouting like unto life insurance — the time and effort involved, the premium, and the pay-off which is the intrinsic value that is realized in the years to come."

So said Miss Catherine M. Schirz, field director of the National Girl Scout staff, at a dinner meeting of the Manistique Girl Scout Council and Girl Scout Leader's Association held Wednesday evening at the Paul Bunyan Cook Camp.

Miss Schirz, who has recently been assigned to Region 7 which comprises Upper Michigan and Wisconsin, spoke of her interesting experiences last summer as a staff trainer at Camp Edith Macy, Pleasantville, N. Y., which is the international Girl Scout camp, and also acquainted the members present with services available to local councils from national offices. The problem of recruitment — of leaders and adult members in the program — was discussed at length with all persons participating.

The newly appointed field director met Thursday afternoon with parents of interested Scouts and held individual consultations with board members and troop leaders.

Clubwomen Learn About Guards At Meeting Tuesday

(By Mrs. E. J. Doyle)
"We can all help America to keep its guard up. For every individual there is a job. Women, too, can help the guard's recruiting aim," stated Lt. Col. Leonard C. Ward, Battalion Commander of 107th Combat Engineers, at a meeting of the Manistique Women's club Tuesday.

The National Guard officer gave a short resume of the history of the National Guard which comprises the greatest and best equipped volunteer army in the world. The Guard is older than our country and has served with distinction in every war in which the U. S. has participated. Lt. Col. Ward explained the 13 battle streamers which were presented to the battalion during a division review at the Camp Grayling 1952 encampment.

The campaign streamers won by the 107th Engineers are: War with Spain-Santiago; WWI—Alsace, Aisne-Marne, Champagne, Oise-Seine, and Meuse-Argonne, and WWII—Normandy (with arrowhead), Northern France, Rhineland, Ardennes-Alsace and Central Europe.

The speaker lauded the local company for its superior performance during training and stated that any local young man could be proud to serve with the National Guard. It is an integral part of the armed services and the specific training obtained at the local armory would assist young men confronted with inevitable military service.

He urged members of the Women's Club to spread the call to arms so that we may in the words of George Washington "maintain a respectable defensive posture."

Capt. Edward J. Doyle, of Co. D, was introduced by Mrs. John Kelly, program chairman. He welcomed the members of the Manistique Women's Club and invited them to inspect the armory and to ask questions concerning any of the equipment.

Sgt. Ed Leonard, Sgt. John Louis, Warrant Officer William Cowman and Lloyd Carrothers were on hand to explain the exhibits of equipment and weapons. The women showed keen interest in the armory layout, noting the cleanliness and order of the supply room, arms vault and offices.

Weapons of all caliber were displayed, also oversized working models of each. The field kitchen, C-rations and clothing issues were viewed with interest. A scale model terrain was set up which also received a great deal of attention.

Mrs. R. E. Slining and Mrs. C. L. Novak presided at a table attractively decorated in the harvest motif. Mrs. George Huber was chairman of the hostess committee. During the social hour, members watched a movie, "Builders of Peace."

Cooks Couple Are Married Recently In Ceremony Here

Miss Madelyn Bernadette Fountain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fountain, of Cooks, and Wilbur Roger Silkworth, son of Mrs. Gladys Roberts, of Cooks, were united in marriage recently in St. Francis de Sales Church, Rev. F. M. Scheringer officiated at the 9 a. m. ceremony.

Music for the ceremony was provided by the Sisters of the church. The bride was attired in a white ballerina length gown and she carried a prayer book and rosary.

Barbara Fountain, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. She wore a pink ballerina length gown and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white pompons.

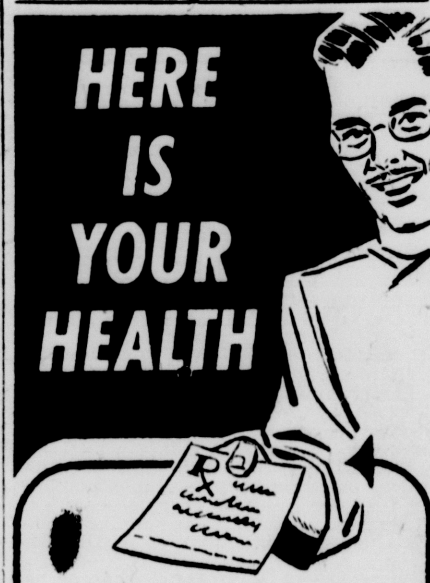

Donald Tardiff, of Gladstone, served as best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Omar LaMourie, 320 Weston Ave., for 25 guests. The couple left later on a wedding trip to Detroit. Upon their return they will make their home in Cooks.

Both the bride and groom attended Cooks high school.

Out-of-town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Hockstad, of Munising.

25 Grid Letters Awarded At Escanaba High School

Major football letters were awarded to 25 Escanaba Eskymos and two cross country letter awards were made in an Escanaba Senior High School assembly program this morning.

Football coach Joe Milokna presented letters to 16 seniors and nine juniors. Of the juniors, eight will be available for action next season. One becomes ineligible because of age.

Cross country coach Henry Wylie also presented five minor Es to members of the cross country squad.

Grid letters were awarded to the following seniors: Con Michael, Dick Carlson, Alan Davidson, Gerald Nichol, Bob Monson, Charles Bellefeuille, John Jensen, John Peterson, John Trotter, George Peterson, Judd Yelland, Fred Boddy, Bill Peltier, Dick Weycker, Dick Peterson, Paul Davidson, George Bartley, a junior, will be 19 years old before next season, making him ineligible for high school competition.

Juniors receiving letters were Vincent Nelson, Harold Martin, Bill LeMire, Tom Gregorie, Pat McDonough, Mike McDonough, Marshall Judson, Richard Hanson, Dick St. Amant, student manager, also earned a letter award.

Michael, Carlson, Bellefeuille, John Peterson, Weycker, Dick Peterson and Paul Davidson were previous letter winners.

Dick Casey, winner of the Upper Peninsula cross country championship run here this month, and Harlan Yelland, who placed seventh, received major letters. Minor Es were awarded to Carl Gray, Dave Gilbert, Pat Gallagher, Dick Ferrari and Jim King. Honorable mention for completing the season was won by Jim McCormick, Dick Johnson, Robert Degnan, Don Anderson and Jon Clayton.

Both Casey and Yelland are seniors. Yelland completed his third year in cross country this season. He was 18th as a sophomore, finished 14th last year and moved up to seventh this season. Casey is one of the Upper Peninsula's best milers. He finished second in the U. P. mile finals last season.

Milokna, in his first year as coach of the Eskymos, guided his team to four wins, a tie and two losses this season. The Eskymos finished strong with wins in their last four starts.

The new Eskymo grid mentor came here from Kingsford this season to succeed James Rouman who resigned.

Bowl Game Payoffs To Be Greater Than Ever

ATLANTA (AP)—There's a shortage of football teams willing to play a bowl New Year's Day, but there's no shortage in dollars to induce the willing.

With television networks dumping additional cash into Miami,

New Orleans, Dallas and Pasadena for the right to put the bowl shows on the air, the payoff per team this winter will be more than ever before.

All of which is fine for members of the Southwest and Southeastern conferences and a scattering of independent colleges throughout the country. Those leagues and teams see no more wrong with playing football on New Year's Day than they do on a Saturday in October or November.

The Big Seven, Skyline, Southern and Ivy Leagues have banned bowls. Only one Pacific Coast team and one member of the Big Ten can play and they must play each other in Pasadena's Rose Bowl.

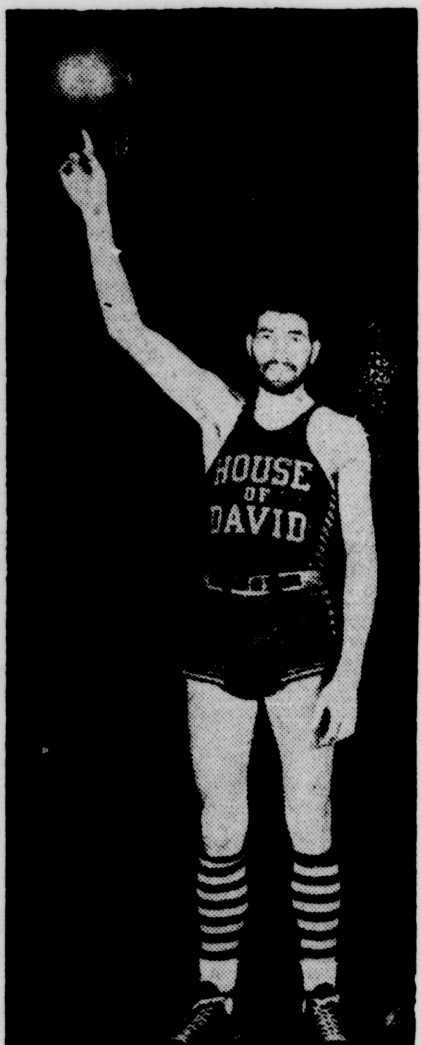

With the bowl field cut so drastically, bowl promoters are finding once and twice defeated teams a lot more attractive.

And promoters see nothing wrong with inviting the same team down two years running. Oklahoma went to the Sugar Bowl three years in a row, but on the third go round merchants in New Orleans noted a sharp drop in the number of dollars divided around.

Irv, Poche, president of the Sugar Bowl, said Maryland and Tennessee received $128,000 each for last January's game. TV may bring more per team this year, he added.

It took Michigan State just three seconds to score in its 1952 game against Syracuse. The Spartans tackled Syracuse's Bob Lerner in the end zone on the opening kick-off.

Bert Zagers and Bernie Rate-rink, sophomore members of Michigan State's "pepper" backfield, both scored touchdowns in their college debuts and both came on passes from Willie Throver.

House Of Davids Play Al's Saturday Night

Independent basketball takes the local sports spotlight Saturday night when Al's Tavern plays an exhibition game with the House of Davids traveling quint at 9 at the Bonifas gym.

An attractive preliminary at 7:45 will pit Harnischfeger against Joe's Tavern of Hermansville.

The House of David team is one of the best known of the traveling basketball teams. The team put on an entertaining exhibition here last year.

The Davids have been organized since 1931 and averages 125 games per season with an overall winning percentage of .710. The team has played in every state in the nation and averages about 25,000 miles per season.

Al's team is composed of veteran cage stars of this area, including a number of newcomers this season. On the roster are Jack Courneene, Don Paulin, Tippy Legault, Roy Johnson, Don Lewis, Bob McCarthy, George Anderson, Bill Baker and Gerald Harris.

The House of David roster lists George Anderson veteran manager; Harry McLaughlin, a 6-4 center who was the standout of last year's game here; Homer Garner, 6-1 former North Carolina State player; Russ Smikle, six-foot guard playing his second season; Frank Mataya, six-footer from Washington State College; Bob McReady, tallest man on the squad at 6-5, and Jack Kelham, 6-4 forward.

Escanaba, St. Joe Senior Gridders Are Set For Trip

Thirty-five seniors and coaches of the St. Joe and Escanaba football squads will leave tomorrow morning for Milwaukee where they will attend the Marquette University-Holy Cross football game.

Grid fans have organized to sponsor the trip on an annual basis starting this year. Solicitations are being made to raise the necessary funds. Contributions may be made to Tommy Quinn, Tommy's Lunch.

Making the trip from St. Joe are coaches Tom St. Germain and Hack Hanson, Tom Brien, John Martinac, Don LaChapelle, Bob Sendenburgh, Bob Bergeon, Harlan Pepin, Jim Cashin, Jim Gravelle, Gary Petersen, Tom Millington, Dan Marsick and student manager Jack Gregory.

From Escanaba, coaches Joe Milokna, Burt Gustafson and Frank Miketinaac will accompany the following players: Con Michael, Dick Carlson, Alan Davidson, Gerald Nichol, Bob Monson, Charlie Bellefeuille, John Jensen, James Peterson, John Peterson, John Trotter, George Peterson, Wayne King, Judd Yelland, Fred Boddy, Bill Peltier, Dick Weycker, Dick Peterson, Paul Davidson and student manager Dick St. Amant.

Sport Shorties

Ray Lee Walls, 19, Pittsburgh rookie outfielder, hit .342 for Modesto, Calif. in 135 games last year. He drove in 109 runs.

Paul Dekker is being counted on to become Michigan State's top pass receiver during the coming football season.

Catcher Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees was a Ranger during World War II. He rose from a private to the rank of major.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

The Escanaba Harnies will have plenty of height at the center slot in independent basketball circles this season. Phil Creten, ex-St. Norbert College star cager, will be with the Harnischfeger quint. Phil stands 6-7. Last season he scored 120 points for St. Norbert's Green Knights.

George Mathison, former Delta Reporter writer, was home from Milwaukee to see the Gladstone Braves make a strong victory bid against Escanaba last Saturday. One of Gladstone's most ardent sports boosters, Mathison is now employed in the advertising department of the Milwaukee Sentinel. George said he hates to miss the Saturday meeting of the U. P. Sports Writers Association. He was a faithful member for many years.

St. Joe underclass grid players and cheerleaders will see two of the few remaining undefeated college teams in action Saturday night in DePere. The Knights of St. Norbert will face Loras College of Dubuque, Ia. in a battle of the unbeaten. Loras has six straight wins while St. Norbert boasts a string of seven in a row—three at the tail-end of last season. Last year the Knights won at Dubuque 48 to 6.

The Green Bay Packers boast the No. 1 and No. 2 passers in the National Football League. Vito Parilli has completed 25 of the 47 passes he's thrown, gaining 485 yards for an average of 10.32 yards a toss. Tobin Rote, with 42 completed in 78 tries, has gained 681 yards or 8.73 yards each time.

Joe Gemignani, Houghton Tech tackle, has converted on 14 straight place kicks for the Huskies this season. He missed on his first attempt against Northland but hasn't muffed one since. The Huskies have four wins against one loss. They play at Superior State Teachers tomorrow and then travel to Lower Michigan to take on Ferris Institute in the season's finale at Grand Rapids Nov. 8.

How you going to figure anything out in this year's Big Ten football race? Take these examples: Washington defeated Minnesota, 19-13; Illinois shellacked Washington, 48-14; Minnesota turned around and dumped Illinois, 13-7. And Ohio State slapped Wisconsin, 23-14; Wisconsin belted Iowa, 42-13, and Iowa upset Ohio State, 8-0. As usual, the moral is that in football as in so many other sports, comparative scores mean almost nothing.

Lions Own Two Wins In Row Over Browns

DETROIT (AP)—Coach Buddy Parker, who pushes his Detroit Lions against the Cleveland Browns Sunday, owns a real distinction in the professional football coaching business.

He has defeated a Paul Brown coached team twice in succession. Currently that is a distinction, but if Coach Brown of the Cleveland Browns should take the factor and use it in whipping up his squad for Sunday's game, it could be a liability.

Only a few coaches have tagged Brown with successive defeats in his coaching career at Massillon, O. High School, Ohio State University, the Great Lakes Naval Training Center, and in Cleveland with the Browns.

Giants Did It Publicist Russ Gester can remember only one other pro team that has done it—the New York Giants of 1950.

The Giants defeated Cleveland twice that year only to meet the Browns in a third post season game for the Eastern Division title. The Giants lost the third encounter.

The Lions' two victories came in exhibition games, one last year and one early this season.

A near capacity crowd of 50,000 is expected to watch the first regular tilt between the two teams.

Cleveland is rated a slight favorite by oddsmakers. But the underdog role doesn't worry Parker. Parker recalls too well, the fact that the Lions were seven point favorites to beat the San Francisco 49ers in a game won by the 49ers 28-0.

Hit By Injuries

Both Cleveland and Detroit have been hit by injuries this year. The Browns, despite their first place standing in the NFL's American Conference, have been plagued by injuries to key players as Ken Carpenter and Dante Lavelli, Detroit has missed the services off and on of Doak Walker, Pat Harder, and Leon Hart.

Brown said all his team with the exception of Carpenter will be ready for Sunday's encounter. Parker reports Walker as the only doubtful Lion starter.

Wolverines Look For All-Out Aerial Game

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP)—An all-out aerial bombardment is expected to test Michigan's pass defense to the utmost here Saturday when Illinois invades the Wolverine stadium.

Illini Coach Ray Eliot has warned "We haven't got much but we do have a fine pass game and intend to use it to the fullest."

And none will disagree that Tommy O'Connell is one of the best throwers in college football and has a superb receiver in John (Rocky) Ryan.

Probably the quickest as-comes from Michigan Coach Bennie Oosterbaan who has drummed that theme home on the Wolverines practice field all week long.

Average 150 Yards

Actually, Michigan's pass defense has not been bad. Five opponents have cut through Michigan for 749 yards, an average of about 150 yards a game. And that effort has netted only four touchdowns.

Northwestern's Dick Thomas did the greatest yardage damage, completing 11 of 24 for 176 yards. But most of it came late in the game, scoring one touchdown after Michigan had tucked away the victory.

Score - wise, Michigan State's Tom Yewic was the best, completing seven of 14 for 171 yards and two touchdowns.

In the other three contests, Indiana's Lou D'Achille completed 14 of 26 for 160 yards but scored no touchdowns, Stanford's Bob Garrett made good on six of 17 for 81 yards and one score and Paul Giel of Minnesota completed eight of 18 for 50 yards without scoring. Oosterbaan is ready to admit that O'Connell is a more dangerous passer than any Michigan has met this season.

And that threat is enhanced by Ryan's adeptness at catching the ball.

Emphasize Defense

The defense has been emphasized in the Michigan camp all week, with the spotlight on such Wolverine performers as Dave Tinkham, Stan Knickerbocker, Russ Rescorla and Tony Branoff. These four and others alternated in defensive halfback positions against the passing attack of the Michigan reserves.

At the vital safety position, Oosterbaan had laded out lengthy practice to end Lowell Perry, halfbacks Frank Howell and Dan Cline.

That was the pattern again yesterday as Michigan wound up the heavy drills for the week with Laurie LeClaire and Roger Zatkoff backing up the line, the Wolverine defensive unit worked against more reserve passes than they've seen all season.

Oosterbaan planned only a light session today, to keep kinks out of the squad he hopes will be able to beat Illinois and emerge alone on top of the Big Ten standings.

King Ranch's Dispose threw a shoe on the clubhouse turn at Hialeah during the 1941 Flamingo yet went on to win the race.

First Cage Call Draws 59 Eskymo Candidates

Fifty-nine candidates responded to Coach Burt Gustafson's first Escanaba High School basketball call this week.

Included are four lettermen from last year's Eskymo team which won the district championship at Menominee. Returning are John Peterson, Con Michael, Fred Boddy and George Bartley. Michael, however, is unable to take part in practice because of a football injury.

Of the 59 candidates, 13 are seniors, 18 are juniors and 28 are sophomores. It is one of the largest initial turnouts in basketball in recent years at Escanaba.

New Coach

Coach Gustafson will be guiding the Eskymos for the first time this season. He took over as varsity cage coach after the resignation of Steve Baltic last spring.

The Eskymos will open their 1952-53 campaign Nov. 22 against the St. Joe Trojans at Bonifas gymnasium. A 16-game slate will be concluded on Feb. 27 against Kingsford here. Recently added to the schedule was a home-and-home series with the Marinette Marines.

Seniors reporting for practice this week are Peterson, Boddy, Bill Peltier, Bob Monson, Dick Weycker, Paul Menard, Charles Bellefeuille, Robert Lequia, Dick Peterson, Paul Davidson, Wayne Arts and Don Erickson.

Red Wings Post 4-1 Victory Over Boston

DETROIT (AP)—With Metro Prystai, Ted Lindsay and Johnny Wilson scoring final period goals, the Detroit Red Wings broke a three-game losing streak last night by whipping the Boston Bruins, 4-1, at Olympia stadium.

Red Kelly scored Detroit's first goal in the second period to knot the count at 1-1. Boston had taken the lead on a first period goal by Fleming Mackell.

Until Kelly smashed his counter Detroit had looked like the inept club that had staggered through three defeats. But the Red Wings took over after that to the delight of 10,222 paying customers. Only three penalties, all against Boston, were called in the cleanly played game.

Spartans Seeking Eighth Straight Big Ten Victory

By ROBERT E. VOGES

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Michigan State will be shooting for more than its 21st straight football win against Purdue here Saturday.

The Spartans also will be trying for their eighth consecutive victory over a Big Ten opponent since they were admitted to the Western Conference.

Coach Biggie Munn said the players seldom talk about their 20-game winning streak.

Seven Straight

"But we do talk about this," Munn said. "We haven't lost to a Big Ten school since we were admitted into the conference. We've won seven in a row. Saturday we go after number eight. That's the record we think of."

The coaches and 40-man traveling squad flew to Indianapolis from Detroit yesterday. This morning they bussed into Lafayette and were due for a brief

Georgia Tech Slight Favorite Over Duke

Top Southern Teams Clash

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Georgia Tech and Duke, two of the killers of the Southland, meet in the No. 1 college football game of the day tomorrow as the season swings into the home stretch.

Great Harness Racer Retires

By JOHN CHANDLER
YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Good Time, a spunky little four-legged dynamo with a heart as big as a bucket of oats, retired from the harness racing scene today after shattering the Yonkers Raceway track record for a mile.

He was caught in 2:00 4-5ths on the half mile oval.

Bill Cane's six-year-old star, greatest money-winning harness horse in history, broke his own Yonkers record of 2:01 flat for a half mile track. That mark was made here this Oct. 17, and equalled again Oct. 23.

His own half mile track mark of 2:00 1-5th was set in a race at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., last July 8.

Good Time, a son of Hal Dale—On Time by Volomite, hangs up his horseshoes with a total of $318,792 in the bank. He has earned $110,299 of this during the 1952 season, the most money ever earned in one year by a standard-bred.

State High School Cross Country Run Set For Ypsilanti

YPSILANTI (AP)—Sixty-four high school cross-country teams will compete here tomorrow in the Michigan High School Athletic Association's meet.

The meet is being sponsored by Michigan Normal College and will begin at 10:30 a. m. at the Wash-tenaw Country Club.

Among the 26 Class A schools which will compete, Kalamazoo Central, Bay City Central and Pontiac are favorites to replace Jackson as champion.

Alma, the defending champ, Niles and Mt. Pleasant are favored among the 24 class B entries.

Lansing Everett and New Lathrop are favorites in the 14-school class C-D field.

Favor Bratton Over Joe Miceli Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Unpredictable Johnny Bratton, inclined to follow good fights with lazy exhibitions, is a heavy favorite over rough Joe Miceli tonight at 10:00 (EST) in a nationally televised welterweight 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

But Miceli is no soft touch for this former NBA welter champ, moving up in the ranking on the strength of wins over Luther Rawlings, Virgil Atkins and Pierre Langlois, the 23-year-old New Yorker can upset the odds.

The University of Mississippi's 1952 football roster includes 11 freshmen.

team among the major outfits when the results are in Saturday night. Both teams have identical 6-0 records and are rarin' to go. They've been pointing for this one all season.

Tech Favored
The contest is rated pretty much of a tossup, but when the two take the field in Durham, Tech probably will rate a slight favorite. Tech is No. 4 in The Associated Press poll, Duke No. 6.

Important games are sprinkled over the rest of the nation with the California-UCLA contest probably the best from a competitive standpoint.

This is another one that will have an important bearing on a championship—the Pacific Coast Conference and the Rose Bowl bid that goes along with it. The ULCANS are undefeated with a 6-0 mark while Pappy Waldorf's Golden Bears sport a 5-1 record.

If UCLA wins it—as the coast experts think they will—California will be pretty much out of the Rose Bowl picture. It will be between the Bruins and Southern Cal, which meet on Nov. 22. The Trojans get a day off tomorrow.

MSC Faces Purdue
Of the top teams in the country, Michigan State, No. 1, seems to have the roughest task. It must beat Purdue, which has been cutting a swathe through the Western Conference with surprising ease.

The Boilermakers have a strong passing attack, which is just what has been bothering the Spartans all season. Still, it would be nothing more than wishful thinking to look for an upset. It shouldn't be a romp for the Spartans, though.

Maryland-Oklahoma, the second and third ranking teams, respectively, have what appears to be easier tasks. The Terrapins go against Boston University and Harry Agganis, Oklahoma, unbeaten but tied once, will test its offensive power against Iowa State in a game that figures to be a romp. Kansas, the ninth-ranking team in the nation, still with hopes of beating out Oklahoma for the Big Seven title, plays Kansas State in a breather.

Games Tonight
Villanova, No. 10 and the only other major unbeaten, untied team, tangles with the Parris Island Marines tonight in Philadelphia. Tonight's other two big contests pit Boston College against Clemson at Boston and Miami against Kentucky at Miami.

In the Ivy League, Princeton, which still can win the title, takes on Brown, Penn., which is in the lead—it is also undefeated although tied twice—plays strong Penn State in a non-league tussle.

Texas and Southern Methodist meet in the big Southwest Conference game of the day. The Longhorns have been looking better and better and a triumph would make them definite favorites for the crown.

Football Not Pigskin, It's Cow Or Steer Hide

By GEORGE H. KEEFE
Springfield Union Staff Writer (Written for The Associated Press)

CHICOPEE, Mass. (AP)—Eighty thousand football fans roared as the Pigskin soared through the autumn haze and settled in the arms of a player.

But it wasn't "pigskin." It was cowhide—or steerhide—for the makers of top grade football.

balls are fussy about the toughness of the leather they use even though they don't worry about the gender of the animal whose hide they lift.

Name Is, Mystery

Ralph F. Wheeler, general factory manager for A. G. Spalding Bros., Inc., here, one of the leading manufacturers of footballs in the country, says the hide from either the cow or the steer is the best and toughest leather there is for creating a football.

"It's a mystery where the name 'pigskin' ever came from," he says.

"Pigskin is never used in the Spalding method. Possibly 'way back, pigskin might have been used for a 'foot ball,' one kicked by the foot, perhaps a soccer ball. But nobody has ever been able to run down the origin of the name."

Wheeler says the back section of a side of cowhide is the prize portion and the "bend," a leather term for the tough hide covering a joint, is the choicest of that section.

Job For Men

Making a football, says Wheeler, is definitely a job for a skilled and strong-armed man. The leather itself is fairly heavy and the several linings add to its toughness. The ball is actually made inside out for it couldn't be sewed otherwise.

The leather sections are cut by machine dies according to the grain. The sections are sewed together by machine but the shaping is a long and skilled hand process.

Spalding Bros. also turns out rubber footballs to meet a developing trend in athletics.

So it boils down to the fact that the gridiron isn't iron and the football isn't pig but someday might be rubber.

But a P. S. to baseball fans—baseballs are definitely made of horsehide.

Hawks Pin Loss On Rangers 8-3

(By The Associated Press)

The rejuvenated Chicago Black Hawks, flying high in first place in the National Hockey League, thumped the New York Rangers 8-3 last night. The win was Chicago's third straight over the last-place Rangers.

Boasting a new coach, Sid Abel, the Hawks are making a complete about-face in comparison to last season's performance when they finished last.

With five victories and three ties in ten starts, Chicago has 13 points. The Montreal Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings are tied for second place with ten points each.

The Black Hawks bolted away to a four-goal spurt in the first ten minutes of the opening period and never were headed as they compiled their highest goal total since January 28, 1943. On that night they blasted the same Rangers, 10-1.

Pete Conacher and veteran Jimmy McFadden set the pace for the victors with two goals apiece. For the 20-year-old Conacher, son of the former NHL stalwart and ex-Hawk coach, Charlie Conacher, the goals were the first of his National League career.

Baseball Considers New Rule On Waivers

NEW YORK (AP)—Incensed at being made what they consider the scapegoat, the New York Yankees today were formulating their plans on the new waiver rule, which apparently was aimed squarely at them.

It is an anti-waiver legislation that will make it mandatory for a team to obtain waivers on a player from both major leagues after July 31. The present rule requires that a team obtain waivers only from its own league.

For the past four years the Yankees have gotten players from the National League after July 31 who have helped them in their pennant drives. There was Johnny Mize in 1949, Johnny Hopp in 1950, Johnny Sain in 1951 and Ewell Blackwell this year.

Need Majority

For the rule to become official, a majority of the clubs must vote in favor of the legislation at the winter meetings next month in Phoenix. President Dan Topping of the Yankees has said that he would favor the new rule, but judging by the statements issued by General Manager George Weiss, Topping may change his mind.

have to okay it, and it is highly possible that if the Yanks decide to oppose it, they could gather enough strength to defeat the measure.

Weiss contended that the Yanks had been "cast in a bad light despite the fact that they have never obtained a ball player by going behind or beyond the rules of baseball."

Will Obey Rules

"The Yankees always have lived by the rules passed at the major league meetings, and we will live by any rules passed at the next one," said Weiss.

Weiss said that the Cleveland Indians purchased three players on waivers from the National League—shortstop George Strickland, outfielder Wally Westlake and pitcher Ted Wilks. Furthermore, he said, "two of the three players could have been purchased by the Yanks, but we passed them up."

He also said that the Indians, along with all the other American League clubs, waived on Boston Red Sox pitcher Ray Scarborough, who won five games for the Yanks. "Were those five victories transferred to the Indians," Weiss commented, "Cleveland might have been champion."

Japanese Organize Underground Ready For Red Invasion

By VICTOR SUZUKI

TOKYO (AP)—The nucleus of an underground anti-Communist resistance organization aimed at possible Soviet invaders was formed in Tokyo last month and is growing rapidly.

It is called the National Martyrs Youth Corps.

Existence of the right-wing group was disclosed when a corps of National Martyrs beat up Communist squatters at the Foreign Office. The Reds had been forcefully demanding passport visas to attend the Communist-sponsored Asia and Pacific "Peace" Conference in Peiping.

Saburo Goto, secretary-general of the Patriotic Youth Volunteers Committee of which the youth corps is a part, said in an interview, "It's high time we prepared for a Red invasion."

"We are going to fight the Japanese Communists openly now," he said, "and underground if the Russians should come."

While the organization says its aim is to "reconstruct Japan," its immediate purpose is to prepare an underground combat network in case of invasion.

Goto said the number of members has increased in less than a month to 500 in Tokyo and 3,000 throughout Japan.

Asked about the use of violence in his anti-Red campaign, Goto said it was "out of bounds and entirely unnecessary."

Corps Keep Healthy

The youth corps leader contended that intense physical training, including judo, fencing and boxing, for all his corpsmen was merely for self-defense purposes and to create "a healthy spirit in a healthy body."

Resistance methods used in Europe during World War II are being studied.

Asked why his youth corps doesn't join the national defense forces, Goto explained:

"Fighting with arms is one thing, fighting with thought is another. Our mission is the latter, and it's a great mission."
